The life crushed out of his body under the wheels of an automobile which police were told was traveling at a high rate of speed, the mangled form of J. O. Dyer, 53, of 1039 Lee street, Thursday night lay in a local mortuary establishment while police of half a dozen cities south of Atlanta guarded roads in a hunt for two bobbed-hair girls and three men said to have been occupants of the death car.

Dyer was struck early Thursday night near Gamming crossing and Lee street and his body dragged a distance of 125 feet, witnesses to the fatal accident informed police investigators. They said that Dyer was crossing the street and made a desperate leap to the safety of the sidewalk, which ended in a scream and a sickening thud as the rushing automobile struck its victim.

The driver stepped on the throttle of the machine and disappeared in the darkness as horrified onlookers rushed to the aid of the injured man. A scene of confusion followed, during which an unidentified woman fainted and was carried to a nearby drug store for first-aid treatment.

Five Others Injured.

The death of Mr. Dyer came as a climax to a day and night marked by injury of five other persons in automobile accidents. In another accident of Thursday night a pedestrian was injured by a 75-year-old driver, who failed to stop his machine and who later explained to police that he thought his car had "merely grazed" the victim.

Immediately after call officers reached the scene of the Dyer accident, headquarters was notified and an alarm was spread in a number of adjoining towns south of Atlanta, in which direction the outlaw machine was traveling.

Road Bonds Lost, Legislature May End Session Today

By Vote of 104 to 91,
House Refuses Its Approval of Proposal for $70,000,000 Bond Issue.

NEILL TAKES FLOOR IN FIGHT FOR BILL

Dramatic Roll Call Is Followed by Motions for Adjournment, Expected Immediately.

Following defeat of the state road bond measure in the house Thursday, there is a strong probability that the legislature will adjourn sine die today. Two resolutions, one calling for sine die adjournment at noon today, and the other for Wednesday at 1 o'clock, were introduced in the house Thursday after the bond vote had been taken. A resolution calling for sine die adjournment at noon today was passed in the senate Thursday.

Defeat of the road bond bill was more overwhelming than anyone had expected. Not only did the measure fall short of the required 138 votes needed to pass a constitutional amendment, but it failed to secure a majority of the votes cast, the first vote being recorded as 91 for the measure to 104 against.

Speaker W. Cecil Neill, a staunch supporter of the bond plan for constructing the state highway system, not only spoke in support of the bill—but being granted the concluding argument by Representative Jones, of Meriwether, chairman of the constitutional amendments committee—but also cast his vote in favor of the measure. This was one of the exceedingly rare occasions when the presiding officer voted in other circumstances than to break a tie. Under the rules of the house, the speaker cannot vote where his vote will not affect the result, but Speaker Neill asked unanimous consent to cast his vote on the bond measure and was granted permission of the house to do so.

The roll call vote, climax of the extra session which has been in progress since February 24, began shortly after 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Forty-two of the 155 members voting took advantage of the three-minute speeches allowed for explanation of vote, and it was after 1 o'clock before the roll was completed.

Opponents Stay Silent.

At Wednesday opponents of the bond measure refused to speak on the measure, with the single exception of Representative Lankford, of Toombs, who spoke for about two minutes. The debate began with Representative Zellars, of Hart county. Mr. Zellars declared that if it is bad business for the state to issue bonds against its gasoline and motor vehicle tax revenues, it is a crime for the small counties to issue road bonds against their ad valorem taxes, as is demanded under the present system.

Representative Mann, of Glynn county, followed, declaring that the President's Remarks Ob-

Washington, April 8.—Addressing the journalists of the American continent after laying the cornerstone of the national press club's $9,000,000 newspaper office building and club quarters this afternoon, President Coolidge delivered a significant pronouncement on the entrance of the United States into the world court. The reservation adopted by the senate in voting to adhere to the world court protocol will operate, in the opinion of the president, not only to safeguard the interests of the United States but to create an independent tribunal of international justice which will cease to be subservient to the League of Nations.

Earlier in the day the president addressed the Pan-American congress of journalists, dwelling on the duties and opportunities of the press in the western hemisphere to bring the peoples of the two continents into a closer acquaintance and relationship. One hundred and fifty editors and newspaper writers from Central and South America, attending the congress will be taken on a tour of the country next week.

Acts to Promote Peace.

In his address at the corner stone laying, the president, bespeaking the aid of the press in the maintenance of harmonious international relations said that in adhering to the world court the American government had been animated by a desire to promote the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

"This has been done," he went on, "under reservations which adequately safeguard American rights and also tend to strengthen the independence of the court."

This utterance and other passages on the world court in the president's address instantly focused the attention of the politicians and of the Latin-American newspaper men, who, with the members of the cabinet and other high officials took part in the corner-stone laying.

In some quarters it was suggested that the president had taken this opportunity to defend in forceful manner the votes for the world court of such senators as Mr. McKinley of Illinois whose return to the senate is

DEMOCRATS FIGHT PROPOSED CHANGE

Party Leaders Object to Action While Republicans Are in Power—Several Bills Pending.

Washington, April 8.—Reapportionment of congress, which has been delayed since the census of 1920, is hardly likely at this session, in view of the opposition which asserted itself today and killed the first move Thursday.

While the house was debating a motion to call up reapportionment legislation, which it later defeated, the reasons for the opposition were hinted in the lobbies, based on political and other considerations, including the "wet" and "dry" situations in the house.

No Action Since Census.

Under the constitution, congress must be reapportioned after the census every ten years, according to the general interpretation. No action has been taken since the 1920 census. Representative Barber, California, republican, rising Thursday to the "highest constitutional privilege," moved that the census committee be discharged from consideration of his bill for rearranging the representation.

Chairman Snell, of the rules committee, made a point of order against the motion, contending that the constitution did not require an apportionment after every census, and debate followed. At its end, Speaker Longworth submitted the question to the house for settlement, and Barber's motion was voted down.

There are several bills pending for reapportionment, some of them cutting the membership of the house. It is certain the house will not vote a bill, but some of the others, including Barber's, leave the number as at present, but add to some state delegations and decrease others.

Dry Issue Is Raised.

The prohibition issue was raised by democratic members of the New York delegation, who contended that the republican congress might eliminate some democratic seats in New York now held by "wets" and rearrange the representation so that dry republicans would be elected. Such a situation was seen in other states. There was a general objection from democrats to a reapportionment at this time when the republicans are strongly in the saddle.

Barber's bill would give California three more representatives, Michigan and Ohio two more, and one more each to Connecticut, New Jersey, North Carolina, Texas and Washington. Missouri would lose two seats, and one each would be cut from Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island and Vermont.

"Peaches" Heenan Is Free To Wed When She Pleases

By Leased Wire to The Constitution and
The Chicago Tribune.

New York, April 8.—The romance of Edward West Browning, middle-aged millionaire, and pretty 15-year-old Frances Heenan, threatened with destruction by the children's society, veered from the rocks today in children's court when Mrs. Catherine Heenan, mother of Frances, appeared before Chief Justice Franklin Chase Hoyt.

Mrs. Heenan was summoned on the complaint of Vincent T. Pisarra, superintendent of the children's society, who contends she is an improper guardian for Frances. The girl, who was summoned to appear as a minor delinquent did not appear. She is confined to her bed by mysteriously inflicted burns.

The courtroom was thronged with curious spectators when Mrs. Heenan entered on the arm of her lawyer, Ralph A. Newman. Pisarra explained that Frances was not present, and Mrs. Heenan was immediately called before the bar. After routine questioning of Mrs. Heenan regarding her relationship to and control over Frances, Newman told the court of Frances' mysteriously suffered acid

BRENNAN REFUSED RIGHT TO APPEAR AT DRY HEARINGS

Washington, April 8.—George E. Brennan, Chicago banner bearer of the wets, was reuffled, and on the ground that he "is purely a politician," was denied a personal hearing before the committee by the stage manager of the wets, Colonel Julien Coleman, of Boston, at today's session of the United States senate's investigation of prohibition, its perils and its possibilities. The other feature of the day was the testimony of Federal District Attorney Buckner, of New York, that it would require $75,000,000 a year, 85 courts and 150 new judges to enforce prohibition in New York state alone under the present system of trial by jury of all prohibition cases, both great and small.

With abolition of trial by jury the cost of enforcement would be reduced to $15,000,000 yearly.

Arouses Ire of Reed.

Mr. Buckner followed his figures with a vigorous plea for abolition of trial by jury of minor violations and that roused every ounce of ire in Senator James A. Reed, democrat, of Missouri. The rebuff of George Brennan, which took the pointed form of denying him an opportunity to make a word of mouth plea before the senators for modification of the Volstead act, was based by Colonel Coleman on the ground that the democratic candidate for United States senator from Illinois was purely a politician instead of a pure crusader in the cause of easier and better liquor.

"I am not going to have these senatorial hearings of the prohibition modificationists turned into a political side show," said Colonel Coleman. "Nor am I going to be bulldozed by Chicago politicians and newspaper men. Opportunity to appear before this committee shall not be made political capital by candidates for office."

"I am presenting this case," continued Colonel Coleman, "and I know more about it than anybody else. I am not going to be embarrassed."

The Brennan phalanx, which included Anton J. Cermak, president of the Cook county commissioners; Henry A. Berger, attorney for the commissioners; Dr. William D. McNally, coroner's chemist, Cook county, and Alderman Jacob Arvey, of Chicago, had been waiting two days for their hearing. Yesterday they were promised it by Coleman. This morning they were on hand to get it. Then came the flare-up and Coleman's "positive refusal," as he phrased it, to let them appear.

Theruppon, out walked Brennan and took the afternoon train to Chicago, but before doing so filed with the committee eight typewritten pages

BLIND MURDERER GOES UNSHACKLED TO DEATH HOUSE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and
The Chicago Tribune.)

Ossining, N. Y., April 8.—No handcuffs were snapped on the wrists of Harry Cowan, condemned murderer, when the blind slayer of Edith Burton was brought to the death house.

Cowan, sentenced to die in the week of May 10 for killing the girl on December 28 last in her apartment in Brooklyn, was led from the Raymond street jail, Brooklyn, shortly before noon.

"Thanks for all your kindness," he murmured to the warden as he was assisted into an automobile.

Cowan, 53 and gray-haired, is the first blind man to occupy a death cell. The prisoner was calm. He sobbed following his conviction and sentence in Brooklyn. But his sobbing days are over now, it seems. There remain only the long, dark days and nights of waiting for the end.

Raymond Sisson will don the steel cap of death in Georgia's electric chair on May 28 to pay the supreme penalty for murder of Captain Pat P. Newcome, Fulton county convict guard.

Betrayed by one of the two comrades in convict stripes with whom he planned the alleged sensational North Side camp mutiny resulting in death of the chief of the guards and wounding of three fellow prisoners, the man who formerly was serving a lengthy sentence for robbery now faces a still blacker future.

Thursday afternoon he heard his doom pronounced by Judge G. H. Howard in Fulton superior court after the jury had deliberated his case—the first of three on joint indictment for the murder of Captain Newcome—only three hours.

Doomed Man Silent.

Controlling his emotions by superhuman efforts, he sat in dogged silence while the fatal verdict was read.

"Have you anything to say," Judge Howard asked him.

Only slight twitching of Sisson's fingers betrayed the strain under which he was laboring as he whispered, "No."

The answer was spoken so softly that Judge Howard did not hear it. Again the court inquired if Sisson desired to make a final statement. This time the doomed man mastered himself and repeated the single word, "No."

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Howard expressed sorrow at his painful duty.

"No matter how distressing to me this duty is," he added, "I must perform it. I do not know you personally, but members of the bar have spoken highly of your family, and I have praised your relatives. I feel intensely sorry for them."

Mother Weeps Bitterly

During this proceeding, Sisson's mother, who had assiduously followed the course of her son's trial, placed her hands on the back of his chair and sobbed bitterly and silently. John Sisson, brother, showed no sign of emotion, and Dave Perkins, second de-

Ruts and Wrinkles

Ruts in the road are made by the constant passing of vehicles in the same track. Wrinkles on the face may be caused by the wear on the disposition that comes from going through the same weary routine day after day.

Modern women have fewer wrinkles than those of the last generation—and they are not "covered up," either. They just are not there.

Modern woman has diversion in her life. She plans to have her afternoons and evenings for entertaining or being entertained. She is happier, healthier and younger.

She hasn't time to read advertisements in the afternoons or evenings. She attends to this necessary duty in the morning using The Constitution, which goes into more than 32,000 homes in Atlanta and suburbs with the latest offerings and prices of Atlanta merchants.

KOREAN EVANGELISTS WILL VISIT GRIFFIN

Six Korean officers of the Salvation Army, four men and two women, will pass through Atlanta Saturday en route to Griffin and LaGrange to tell of the work of the Salvation Army in their native land and the manner in which they became dedicated to it.

Attired in the picturesque costumes of the "land of the morning calm," these visitors give an impressive visualization of the missionary work of the Salvation Army in the Far East. They speak in their native tongue, through interpreters, as well as in the English language. Native songs are interspersed throughout their program. The native officers are under the care of Major and Mrs. Alfred Hill, Kyung Dok.

CIVITANS WILL HEAR DISCUSSION OF LOANS

Professor Mercer Evans, of the department of economics at Emory university will speak at the regular Civitan luncheon today at 12:30 o'clock in the main dining room at the Ansley hotel. Professor Evans will talk on "Pre-Armistice Loans."

The musical program will feature Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wall, vocalists, and Chester Kitchings, "Atlanta's boy wonder."

European officers, who have spent many years in Korea. The party is now on a tour of the United States and Canada. The men officers are adjutant Sin Soon Il, Ensign Kim Tong Soo, Corps Cadet Kim Ill Yong and Corps Cadet Pak Tong Ik. The women officers are Lieutenant Yoo Chang Soon and Lieutenant Yoo Kyung Dok.

VETERANS TO PLAN FOR CONVENTION

The first reunion of members of world war veterans' organizations of Atlanta since the war, is slated for noon today at the Henry Grady hotel, the occasion being a joint representation and meeting of Argonne post, American Legion, and Atlanta chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War. The meeting is being held in the interest of the coming annual national convention of Disabled American Veterans to be held here June 21 to 26, inclusive.

William E. Tait, national liaison officer of the D. A. V. organization, will preside at the luncheon, which will be featured by acts from local theaters and addresses by prominent members of the two veterans' organizations dealing with the disabled veterans' problem, expected to attract 5,000 wounded and disabled veterans to Atlanta.

The American Legion post has named a general committee of one hundred prominent members to serve on active committees and subcommittees, arranging details of program events of the approaching meeting.

Reports will be made by representatives of the citizens' finance committee as to progress being made in the personal solicitation appeal now under way for the $350,000 national convention fund of the wounded vets' order. Asa G. Candler, Sr., chairman of the convention finance committee, will preside at this afternoon's conference in the Ansley hotel.

The executive committee will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Ansley hotel. The committee will discuss a tentative program of arrangements and convention activities and will designate chairmen of important standing committees for the coming convention.

James K. Owen, commander of Atlanta chapter of Disabled Veterans, will speak tonight at 7 o'clock from radio station WDBE on the June conference.

State Commander James H. Lucas, of the D. A. V. department of Georgia, has announced receipt of a request from the national officers of this organization, known as the playground society of the D. A. V. order, that Atlanta take steps to institute a new outpost of the order in this city. The "Trench Rat" of the nation will hold their formal initiation ceremonies Wednesday night, June 23, commencing at midnight in the auditorium. Prominent officials of the order will be in charge of ritualistic work.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER FORMALLY ENTERS CONGRESS RACE

Miami, Fla., April 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, today announced formally that she would seek the fourth Florida district congressional seat, now held by William Joseph Sears, of Kissimmee, subject to the democratic primary of June 8. Congressman Sears' term expires in 1927.

Mrs. Owen made the announcement to Miami newspapers yesterday, prior to her departure for Jacksonville, the statement to be held temporarily in abeyance until released by her. In a wire to the Miami Daily News at noon today, she released the announcement for publication.

Mrs. Owen is a vice president of the new University of Miami, and has been prominent in women's club activities. She has informed friends of her intention to wage a vigorous speaking campaign throughout the district, which embraces counties along the east coast of Florida from the Georgia state line on the north to the southern tip of the state. She has made no pronouncement of her platform.

Judge Humphries Speaks.

Judge John D. Humphries will address the laymen and ministers' conference of the Fairburn Baptist association at the Fairburn Baptist church tonight. The Methodist laymen of Fairburn will be present.

April Mercury Barred by U.S. From Mails

Washington, April 8.—The April issue of The American Mercury, published by H. L. Mencken, has been barred from the mails by the postoffice department.

The magazine was held unmailable because of an article written by Herbert Asbury entitled "Hatrack."

The article dealt with immoral conditions in Farmington, Mo. It was the story of a local character described as "immoral" and labelled "Hatrack" by the young men about the town. The action of the postoffice department was taken at the request of the Farmington chamber of commerce, which objected to the article reflecting upon social conditions there.

Mencken was acquitted in Boston earlier in the week when he was arrested for selling the magazine on the streets of that city, following a protest against the article by the Watch and Ward society.

MENCKEN TO DEMAND WASHINGTON HEARING.

New York, April 8.—(AP)—H. L. Mencken, editor of The American Mercury, the April number of which has been barred from the mails, said today that the magazine had been submitted to the postal authorities prior to mailing on March 25 and that no complaint had been received then or up to the present time. He said that he had not been notified of the barring of the magazine officially, but as soon as he was, he would demand a hearing.

"When I was in Boston where I won a court victory over the Watch and Ward society, which had the magazine barred from sale there," he said, "I heard rumors that an effort would be made as an act of revenge, to have the magazine stopped in the mails. As a matter of fact, the magazine cannot be barred from the mails as there are no more copies to be mailed. Our regular mailing was on March 25 and since that time all remaining copies have been disposed of in regular news stand sales."

FARMINGTON CHAMBER ASKS MAGAZINE BAN.

Farmington, Mo., April 8.—(AP)—The Farmington chamber of commerce, at a meeting today attended by the local ministers, adopted a resolution asking Postmaster General Newbarr bar from the mails the April number of The American Mercury, containing an article entitled "Hatrack," written by Herbert Asbury who was born and reared here. The names of the story are laid in Farmington.

The resolution also called upon local news dealers to refrain from aiding in distribution of the magazine. It alleged the story was obscene and generally untrue. The character, "Hatrack," lived here but the story was considered a reflection on the morals of the citizens of the town, some of whom have expressed indignation at the publication. No comment for publication was given out after today's meeting.

Asbury, who is a great grandson of the late Bishop Asbury, also was author of an article entitled "Up From Methodism," which appeared in the February, 1925, number of The American Mercury, and in which evangelistic methods were criticized and certain ministers mentioned. The scenes in this story also were laid here.

Attorneys State They Paid Cost Of Chapman Case

New York, April 8.—Most of the expenses of the futile fight to save Gerald Chapman from the gallows were paid by his counsel, it was revealed today by Frederick J. Groehl, chief of the banish legal staff.

Groehl's assertion was made in commenting on a statement of Charles M. Murphy, one of his associates in Hartford, Conn., where the case was had received no pay for his services.

"What Mr. Murphy says is true," Groehl declared. "It is equally true of Joseph F. Friedman, of Hartford, and Roy M. Wiley, of Springfield, Mass., who were associated with me in Chapman's defense."

"I spent some thousands of dollars—I don't care to say—It costs a lot of money to carry a case to the state supreme court or to the supreme court of the United States."

Chapman's only fee to Groehl, the lawyer said, was the $4,700 found on the bandit at the time of his arrest in Muncie, Ind. The bandit told him and his associates he said, that a friend would provide all necessary funds for his defense.

But the friend, Groehl said, at no time furnished any funds.

MELLON IS BUSY DENYING RUMORS UPON RETURN

New York, April 8.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon returned today on the liner Fort St. George from a two weeks' vacation in Bermuda, denied a group of rumors, some of which he said were "getting old, worn," and expressed the opinion that prohibition enforcement is making "fair" progress.

As to modification of the prohibition laws he considered that "a matter of opinion and time will tell."

"You cannot enforce the laws against rumble and murderers completely," he said, "and it is a question of the degree to which you can enforce the prohibition law. Enforcement has been much improved with the reorganization of the department and with all the work that has been done. I think we are making fair progress."

As to the rumors, one forecast his resignation and this he classed as shoptalk, saying he had never intended to resign.

Another had it that he had received a cable from Washington requesting his immediate return.

This, he said, was not true.

ROAD CHIEF URGES IMPROVED HIGHWAYS

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Annual improvement of more than 40,000 miles of highways in the United States as a result of combined efforts of federal, state and local agencies will continue during the next few years, in the opinion of Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States bureau of public roads. During the past several years the mileage of improvements on our highways has exceeded that figure, he said.

Although Mr. MacDonald would not venture a prediction of the probable number of miles to be improved in the United States during the next few years, he expressed the belief that the present economy of good roads will do much to influence an increase over the programs of preceding years.

In speaking of the present initial objective of the road building industry in the United States, Mr. MacDonald stressed the need for immediate improvement of all roads included in the federal aid and state highway systems by widening, surfacing and elimination of danger points.

Cuts Transportation Costs.

"In this manner," he said, "we can promote the best interest of the nation at large, both in the matter of economy and the welfare of its industry. The increased traffic on our public highways has not only made their immediate improvement a matter of good policy for public convenience, but equally necessary to obtain the lowest possible cost of highway transportation."

Progress of the road building industry in this country during the present year will be climaxed by the 1927 road show and convention of the American Road Builders' association, plans for which will be completed at the yearly meeting of the organization to be held in New York city on May 14. At the latter date new officials of the organization will be installed.

Representatives of United States bureau of public roads will attend the road building meeting in May, according to Mr. MacDonald, and it is very probable that the department will continue its exhibit at the road show next January.

More than 35,000 engineers, contractors and highway officials are expected to attend the 1927 convention of the road organization, representing all parts of North and South America. A large part of the association will be in attendance at the May meeting.

SENATOR MEANS SUFFERS ATTACK OF APPENDICITIS

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Stricken suddenly today while presiding at the senate prohibition hearings, Senator Means, republican, of Colorado, was moved to the Walter Reed hospital for medical examination. Surgeons there diagnosed his illness as appendicitis but held that an immediate operation probably will be necessary.

Senator Means, who will remain at the hospital under observation for the time being, has had sporadic attacks for the past year, but today's was by far the most severe. He is chairman of the subcommittee investigating prohibition conditions.

LUMBER RATE HEARING IS COMPLETED HERE

Hearing of the southeastern lumber rate case involving a proposed rate on lumber and forest products in the southeastern territory will be continued in Washington, May 12, on the conclusion of one phase of the hearing before Special Examiner Arthur Mackley, of the interstate commerce commission, at the Biltmore hotel, Thursday.

Because of the far-reaching importance of the case, a third hearing in addition to the one to be held in Washington in May will be ordered by the commission. At the concluding session at the Biltmore, Thursday, it was shown that more than 14 per cent of the revenue of carriers in the southeastern territory comes from transportation of lumber and forest products.

Tariffs containing an increase in rates on these products both into and from the southeastern territory have been proposed by carriers and are being opposed by lumber dealers.

CHEESE

Is cheese JUST CHEESE to you or is it a real, wholesome, nourishing and digestible food? There is a vast difference and you cannot buy cheese on price alone. Good cheese is easily digested and will retard elimination, but this cheese must be properly made, then stored under proper conditions until thoroughly cured or ripened. All of this process requires selected herds, excellent pastures and barns, time, experience and money, but the finished product is well worth the difference. The cheese we are offering is the best obtainable at any price and is a most excellent food.

EIGHTY MILES PER HOUR CHRYSLER IMPERIAL "80" THE VERY FINEST

FROM now on, thoughts of the very finest in fine motoring will invariably summon up thoughts of the Chrysler Imperial "80". It is inevitable. For here is the different thing you have been asked so many times to expect—and so many times have failed to find. Here is that full, free, fresh kind of performance, of luxury, of swiftness and facility. It is new, and it is different, because Chrysler genius visioned for the finest of fine cars, possibilities never before realized; because Chrysler engineering, delving deep in scientific fact and soaring high in imagination, has gone far beyond current development to unprecedented achievement. The result is not alone 92 horse-power and 80 miles an hour, and unsurpassed luxury of performance, but a car as fine as money can build, with everything in long life that is vouched for by Chrysler quality.

FOOD BURLGARS MOTOR OFF WITH THEIR LOOT

Groceries valued at more than $200 were taken early Thursday morning from the store of J. E. White, 373 Glenwood avenue, according to a report filed at police station Thursday.

After an investigation by police, it was stated that tracks found in front of the store showed that a motor truck was used in carrying the stolen goods away.

COTTON SHIPPERS OPEN MEET TODAY

First official business sessions of the American Cotton Shippers' association convention will be held Friday at the Biltmore hotel with more than 500 leading cotton dealers of the country in attendance and with several nationally-known men appearing on the program as speakers. This is the second annual convention of the association of which Frank Inman, of Atlanta, is president.

Members of the various committees of the association arrived in Atlanta Thursday and held preliminary meetings of their boards to draw up reports.

Among the entertainment features will be the annual banquet, which will be held at the Piedmont Driving club Friday night to be followed by a dance.

One of the principal speeches on the program will be delivered by W. L. Clayton, of Houston, Texas, who

DASH FOR LIBERTY ENDS IN INJURY OF COURT PRISONER

Ralph Belt, formerly of Ohio, has had a strenuous career for the last few days.

Belt was released from the federal penitentiary last Monday after serving two years on a charge of violating the anti-narcotic law. Thursday morning he was arrested by federal agents charged with possessing narcotics.

Awaiting preliminary trial before United States Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter Thursday afternoon, Belt made a sudden dash for liberty. Scouring downstairs pursued by deputies from the marshal's office, he ran out to the sidewalk, tripped and fell, cutting a deep gash in his head.

Arrested again before the commissioner he was committed to Fulton Tower to await preliminary trial at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

will discuss "The Cotton Future Contract."

Committees of the association and their chairmen are as follows: Foreign arbitration and appeals, Edward S. Butler, of New Orleans; Law, Southern mill rules and arbitrations, Charles L. O'Neal, of Spartanburg, S. C.; future contracts, Charles L. Tarver, of Dallas, Texas; taxes, J. M. Locke, of Muskogee, Okla.; budget and finance, W. J. Britton, of Memphis, Tenn.; rules, by-laws and trade ethics, D. H. Crump, of Memphis, Tenn.; foreign rules and practices, E. L. Neville, of Houston, Texas; and New England rules and arbitrations, C. W. Butler, of Nashville, Tenn.

TECH HIGH TO HOLD ANNUAL LITERARY CONTESTS TODAY

The annual literary program of Tech High school will be held in the auditorium at 10 o'clock this morning. These exercises are held to determine the best declaimer and the best debater in the school and to win a place on this program is considered by students the greatest literary honor of the school.

Winners of first place in declamation and debate will represent the school in contests to be held by the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., the latter part of April to determine the champions of the southeast. Tech High has won either first or second place in the Sewanee contests every year for the last four or five years.

The entire student body of Tech High will be required to attend the exercises, assembling by classes. W. O. Cheney, principal, has invited principals and student representatives from the other city high schools.

The program will consist of four declamations and a debate. The declaimers and their selections are: Iren Clarke, "A Speech on Americanism by Senator Lodge," Herman Eberhart, "Ladies From Hell," Ernest Pritchett, "The Tell-Tale Heart," William Tullin, Jr., "How the Church Was Built at Ketchikan, B. C."

The subject for the debate is: "Resolved, that the military forces of the United States should be consolidated into a department of national defense with sub-branches of army, navy and air." Lee Mann and Frank McDonold will speak for the affirmative, with Joe Shearer and Kingsley Weatherly for the negative. Judges for the contests will be Professor W. T. Dent, head of English, O'Keefe Junior High; Professor A. C. Nace, head of English, Boys' High school, and Mr. Schiffer, well known attorney.

Medals will be presented by Professor S. M. Hastings, principal of O'Keefe Junior High school. The debater's medal is being offered by the Emblem Shop and the declaimer's medal by Na. Kaiser Jewelry company. The Tech High band, jazz orchestra and symphony orchestra will furnish music.

POLICE TRACING RECORD OF BOYS IN BANDIT CASE

Tracing of the record of prisoners captured by Birmingham, Ala., police early Wednesday morning, when Roy Woodall, 19-year-old youth, said to have lived in Atlanta, was slain, was under way Friday by Atlanta detectives working on information furnished from Birmingham.

Opinion of detectives indicated that the prisoners captured in Birmingham were the so-called "sheik bandits" who operated in Atlanta several weeks ago, when seven pedestrians were held up and robbed in various sections of the city by youthful bandits who escaped in a waiting automobile.

An automobile bearing a Georgia license tag, said to have been stolen from a Thomassville candy company, and addresses found on the slain boy and his brother, were indications that the bandit has worked in Atlanta.

ART COLLECTION TO BE EXHIBITED AT NEGRO COLLEGE

An art exhibit consisting of 33 fine canvases loaned by the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York will be open to the public at the Carnegie library of Atlanta university at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and at the same hour on Monday, Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday of the two weeks following. It is said to be one of the best collection ever placed on view in this city, among the noted artists represented being Bastien-Lepage, William M. Chase, Thomas Cole, Decamps, Greuze, Hoppper, Israels, Maneschi, Manet, Macaburn, Sir Joshua Reynolds and Alexander Wyant.

The exhibit is circulated by the American Federation of Arts and was secured through the efforts of the art teacher of Atlanta university, who is a member of the federation. Kappa Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, local organization of negro college women, is sponsoring the exhibit at an expense of several hundred dollars. Small admission fees will be charged on week days. On Sundays only those who will be admitted who have previously attended.

Veteran Motor Used In Advertising Buick Durability in Atlanta

A feature of automobile demonstration shown in Atlanta Thursday was the "round-the-world" Buick on exhibition at 330-224 Spring street. This automobile, which was sent around the world to demonstrate the durability of Buick, has completed more than 50,000 miles of actual travel.

The car is a standard six, and with the exception of having a right-hand drive and having extra storage tanks for gasoline and oil, has no special features. The trip around the world was completed in New York without repair or replacement of parts.

No special driver or mechanic traveled with the machine but it was driven from dealer to dealer. During the trip it was driven by more than 350 dealers.

A. M. E. CONFERENCE HOLDS SESSION HERE

South Atlanta district conference of the A. M. E. church was held Wednesday at St. Paul A. M. E. church, with the Rev. B. V. Thornton presiding. The conference was opened with the address by Presiding Elder Thornton. Marked progress was shown in the financial status of the conference.

Among visitors at the morning session were Bishop J. S. Flipper, presiding elder of the diocese; Bishop W. Sampson Brooks, of the West African diocese; Dr. R. D. Stinson, Dr. J. A. Hadley, Dr. C. A. Wingfield, Dr. J. H. McFarland, Dr. L. A. Towney, Dr. J. R. Fleming, Dr. H. O. Canady, Dr. W. J. Williams, Dr. J. T. Wilkerson, Dr. J. L. Butler, Dr. R. B. Barfield, Dr. John Harmon and Dr. H. E. Thornton.

The evening session was opened with the introductory sermon delivered by the Rev. J. G. Brown, pastor of Flipper temple. Dr. Thornton paid compliments to the pastor, Dr. W. Boyd Lawrence, for the excellent entertainment. Bishop W. A. Fountain, of the north district, who has recently revolutionized educational and missionary work at the college level, delivered an address. The Rev. C. D. Thornton and Rev. D. S. Saunders were elected secretaries of the conference. The Rev. W. B. Lawrence was elected reporter.

WESLEYAN DRIVE MAKES PROGRESS

In meeting the challenge of B. N. Duke, who when he gave to Wesleyan college $100,000, attached the condition that the college should raise $200,000 to match it, workers engaged in the $3,000,000 campaign in Atlanta have already met with gratifying success in their efforts among citizens of Atlanta, it is announced.

President W. F. Quillian, of Wesleyan college, is accompanied by W. E. Hearon, financial secretary for Wesleyan, and, in cooperation with Judge John S. Candler, trustee of Wesleyan and chairman of the north Georgia board of education, and Dr. Elam F. Dempsey, secretary of education of the North Georgia conference, is actively proceeding to secure the $100,000 sought from Atlanta at this time.

In addition to personal canvassing, a dinner was held at the Ansley hotel Tuesday night at 7 o'clock. Judge John S. Candler presided and speeches were made by Judge Candler, Dr. Quillian, Dr. Dempsey, Dr. W. A. Stilton, Samuel Candler Dobbs, Dr. V. T. Harnett, George E. Knott, the Rev. R. L. Ramsey and Judge H. Warner Hill. A feature of the meeting was the presence, not only of Wesleyan college officials, but of official representatives from other Methodist institutions of learning who expressed conviction that they are in a great fellowship of service in the common task of bringing Christian education to the youth of the church and state.

Although no appeal was made for gifts at this meeting, its primary purpose being to organize details of the Atlanta campaign, two notable subscriptions were announced. One from Judge Candler was for $3,000, this in addition to $50,000 which he had already given to Wesleyan, and one of $5,000 from S. C. Dobbs. With this beginning a speedy and successful termination of the Atlanta phase of the campaign is anticipated.

BONDS AND BASEBALL TOPICS OF SPEAKERS

Baseball and bonds featured the meeting of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday at luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Manager Bert Niehoff, of the Atlanta Crackers, was honor guest. Manager Niehoff, introduced by Dr. Herbert Kennedy, vice president of the Junior Chamber, spoke briefly on the opening of the Crackers baseball season next Thursday afternoon at Spiller field.

Fitzhugh Knox, Jr., president, who recently has been in Miami, Fla., where he helped organize a junior chamber of commerce in that city, presided.

An address was delivered by C. J. Haden on the bond question.

DRY AGENTS TAKE TWO AUTOMOBILES AND WET CARGOES

Two automobiles and 125 gallons of whisky were confiscated by prohibition agents Thursday, according to a report filed with W. T. Day, enforcement officer. Leon Bell and P. K. Jarvis were placed under arrest and held under $500 bond each when arraigned before United States Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter.

Clem House, who was arrested by agents near Ball Ground, charged with possession of 73 gallons of whisky, was held under $200 bond.

Women Vote on Japs.

Resolutions urging repeal of the Japanese exclusion law have been unanimously adopted by a meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the Pottillo Memorial church, according to announcement by Mrs. L. D. Jolly, chairman, and Mrs. W. M. Twigg, of the resolution committee.

MARTIN NASH LEADS AGAIN

Introducing Free Insurance Feature in Used Car Department

The Martin Nash Used Car Department, pioneers in the introduction of measures for the protection of Used Car buyers in Atlanta, announce the latest and most forward step ever developed in the Used Car field—Auto Deferred Payment Insurance—now furnished free to every purchaser of a Martin Nash Used Car.

By the terms of the policy each Martin Nash Used Car buyer receives the following protection:

1. Should he fall sick The Royal Indemnity Company, one of the oldest and strongest casualty companies in America, will, after 14 days of illness have elapsed, meet all payments accumulating after that date until the purchaser is well or until all payments have been made (where physician is in attendance).
2. Should the buyer suffer an accident the Indemnity Company will, after fourteen days, assume all the payments accumulating after that date until the buyer is well or until all payments have been met (where physician is in attendance).
3. Should the buyer meet with any fatal accident, The Royal Indemnity Company will immediately meet all remaining payments and the car will be turned over to the estate of the purchaser, free of any indebtedness.

Martin Nash, with the Certified Used Car plan of selling, guaranteeing the quality of Martin Nash Certified Used Cars and with the Auto Deferred Payment Insurance plan, protecting against unforeseen eventualities, offers a series of protective features unmatched in Atlanta. One may now buy a Martin Nash Used Car on deferred payments, confident that he will receive from it the finest service and will receive in addition the assurance that no sickness or accident will cause him to lose the car or money invested should he be unfortunate.

Come in today and see some of the wonderful Used Cars that we are now showing and let us tell you in detail about the Auto Deferred Payment Policy as well as the Certified Used Car Plan.

DECORATORS WORK FOR FLOOR BEAUTY

In a recent article in "Garden and Home Builder," Ellen D. Wagner gives an account of the new movement toward colored and patterned floors. "The decorators of the present are stressing importance of floor in making home livable and attractive," says the writer. "They have helped us to realize this and we are no longer accepting just any kind that the builder puts in. We are seeing floors as a background for all the furnishings of the room and are looking to them to aid in providing color and cheer and that indefinable quality called 'homelike.' Oddly enough, linoleum, once deemed suited only to bathroom or kitchen, gives all this to a room. Modern linoleum is far from being a cheap article; it is vastly different from the oldtime oilcloth. It is made of good materials carefully put together. Its standards of manufacture merit the sterling mark of solid worth. Its colors are blended as carefully as the artist blends those on his palette—and they are of the same quality. For its designs, men have sought all over the world. The tiles of Italy and Spain, parquetry in contrasting woods, the texture and design of the finest Chinese uniting the rare loveliness and graining of marble, the clear plain tones of velvet, all have been studied that their beauty might be duplicated in this new-old floor covering. So well has this been done, so painstakingly have these craftsmen worked that, when first shown a floor of embossed handcraft tile linoleum, I felt that I could not have heard aright. This simply could not be linoleum, it must be tile! I knelt down to feel it and the nearer I got, the more my wonder grew! Here was all the irregularity of tile, with quaint motifs placed at odd intervals, the tiles seemingly raised and separated by tan clay or enamel. Here were the lights and shades of a real tile floor, the same pleasing unevenness of surface and yet—it was linoleum and needing but an occasional waxing to keep it spotless and clean. Here was all the beauty of a costly floor with these added advantages: no dirt could collect in it; no dust could come through a crack; it brought no noise of chill as one stepped on it; only warmth and a pleasing resilience. It required no upkeep and would last a lifetime. And that is what the modern linoleum is."

ALPHA KAPPA PSI CONVENTION OPENS

Delegates to the southern district convention of Alpha Kappa Psi to be held today and Saturday began arriving in the city Thursday night, several scores registering at the Georgian Terrace hotel, official headquarters for the gathering. The convention will formally open with a luncheon at the Georgian Terrace at noon. Principal speaker will be Everett W. Lord, dean of the commerce school of Boston university and grand president of the Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity. Dean Lord will speak this morning to several commerce classes at Georgia Tech.

A reception committee will greet delegates at the Georgian Terrace, consisting of Thomas W. Noel, dean of the Georgia Tech school of commerce; Reddick Ashie and Edward W. Blocker. An attractive program has been arranged.

RELIEVED PAIN AND SWELLING OVERNIGHT

Long-standing case of rheumatism helped in a few hours

After having suffered with rheumatism for years, and tried all kinds of remedies in vain, thousands of people have at last found a way to get quick, sure relief.

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for years," writes one woman from Washington, D. C. "At times my hands are terribly swollen. Sloan's always gives me relief in a very short time. I have tried other liniments, but nothing equals Sloan's."

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to its stimulating effect upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh new blood—clears out rheumatism germs—kills pain.

So pleasant and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just pat it on gently and you will get immediate results. All drug stores—35 cents.

NATIONAL HOME MOVE MEETING WITH FAVOR

A communication has been received from Will J. Tilson, member of the Atlanta bar, by Sam C. Crane, secretary of the Southern Soldiers and Sailors' home committee, to the effect that a bill pending before congress in regard to location of a soldiers' and sailors' home in Atlanta is meeting with favor in congress. John Q. Tilson, congressman from Connecticut, and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, has been in conference with members of the congressional committee in regard to the bill, according to Mr. Crane.

FOREIGN TRADE CHIEFS WILL VISIT ATLANTA

Several hundred prominent business men from all parts of the country will visit Atlanta and spend at least one day here upon conclusion of the thirteenth national foreign trade convention in Charleston, S. C., April 28 to 30, according to Charles S. Bell, traffic manager of the Charleston port utilities commission, who was in Atlanta Thursday.

Among the business men who will attend the conference are James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, chairman of the convention; Dr. Jeremiah Jenks, Alexander Hamilton institute, N. Y.; George Gordon Crawford, president Tennessee Coal and Iron Railroad company, Birmingham, Ala.; Henry M. Robinson, president First national bank of Los Angeles, Calif.; and Fred I. Kent, vice president Bankers' Trust company, New York.

At the Charleston convention, the chief topic to be discussed will be development of foreign trade particularly in Central and South America. After the three-day session at Charleston, the visitors will be taken on a motor bus trip to Athens, and thence to Atlanta. They will be entertained here by business organizations and will visit Stone Mountain.

ATLANTA VANDERBILT ALUMNI MEET TONIGHT

When Atlanta alumni of Vanderbilt university sit down to dinner tonight at 7 o'clock in the Capital City club, 10,000 sons and daughters of the university throughout the country will simultaneously gather to do honor to their alma mater.

Chancellor James H. Kirkland hopes to speak over radio to more alumni and former students Friday night than ever heard his voice at a time before. At 8 o'clock the Vanderbilt Glee club will take the air over station WSM at Nashville and sing the old varsity songs for the pleasure of alumni throughout the country. At 8:15 Chancellor Kirkland will begin his address and will speak for 15 minutes.

Atlanta alumni are hoping that atmospheric conditions will be favorable for a reunion of the WSM program. The radio receiver will be in the banquet room with loud speaker attachment and an expert will endeavor to tune in on the Vanderbilt program from Nashville.

In addition to the radio program the Atlanta graduates are planning some stunts to enliven the occasion. A university fife, entitled "Buck Green of Vanderbilt," will be shown and Dr. Edwin Mims, distinguished English scholar, will speak of the university's hopes and plans in connection with the $4,000,000 endowment campaign. All former students are invited to the dinner as guests of the university.

Marine Careers Open To 22 More Georgians, Says Atlanta Skipper

With March tucked away as a successful month, marine corps recruiters of Atlanta, offering service on land and at sea, with the opportunity of free courses of study, announced Thursday a special drive for 22 recruits during April. This number is to be secured before April 13, stated Captain J. M. Swinerton, officer in charge of the office at 59 South Forsyth street.

During March more than 200 young Georgians made application to list in the life of sea soldiers. Among Georgia boys in the marines is Jack Taggart, of Vienna, who has been awarded a diploma of proficiency in commercial law, after mixing military drills and various other soldierly duties while studying by correspondence with the Marine Corps institute, according to a bulletin received Thursday by Captain Swinerton.

DRUID HILLS BAPTISTS HOLD BANQUET TONIGHT

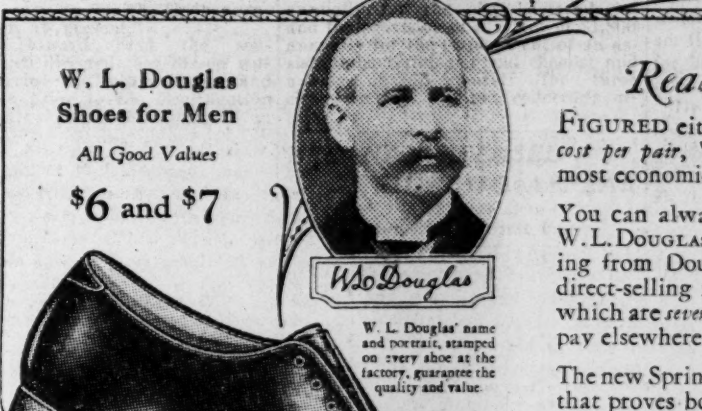

Men's Bible class of Druid Hills Baptist church will hold the annual banquet tonight at 7 o'clock at the classroom at the corner of Ponce de Leon and Highland avenues. A contest for new members is now on with Alvin Richards and C. C. Malone leading opposing armies. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. W. M. Seay, pastor of the West End Baptist church. The class quartet will be in charge of the music. W. A. Horn, chairman of the student committee, is prepared to add plenty of spice to the program.

Architects and decorators have been seeking such floors....

To-day they are being shown in Atlanta stores!

"Your floors are always beautiful. But now give us a floor that has texture as well as design."

This lack of "texture" was the one criticism that architects and decorators had to make of linoleum. And now even that has been overcome.

To-day Armstrong's designers present to discriminating women the newest, the prettiest, the most original note in floors—

Armstrong's Embossed Handcraft Tile Inlaid

Here is really something to see. No newspaper illustration can do justice to its beauty. Not only are the soft-toned tiles combined in differing, delicate blendings of the same base color, but each tile is actually embossed—set off by a cement-toned interliner that is countersunk.

The pattern is so ingeniously arranged that the eye does not catch any repeat. And in some patterns tiny heraldic motifs are pleasingly spotted.

Not only does this beautiful floor reflect a play of lights and shadows that bring an unusual beauty to it, but in use it retains all the housekeeping advantages of Armstrong's Linoleum. No surface design to wear out. Nothing to need refinishing. Just a warm, foot-comfortable, noise-muffling floor that will make any room of your home outstandingly pretty.

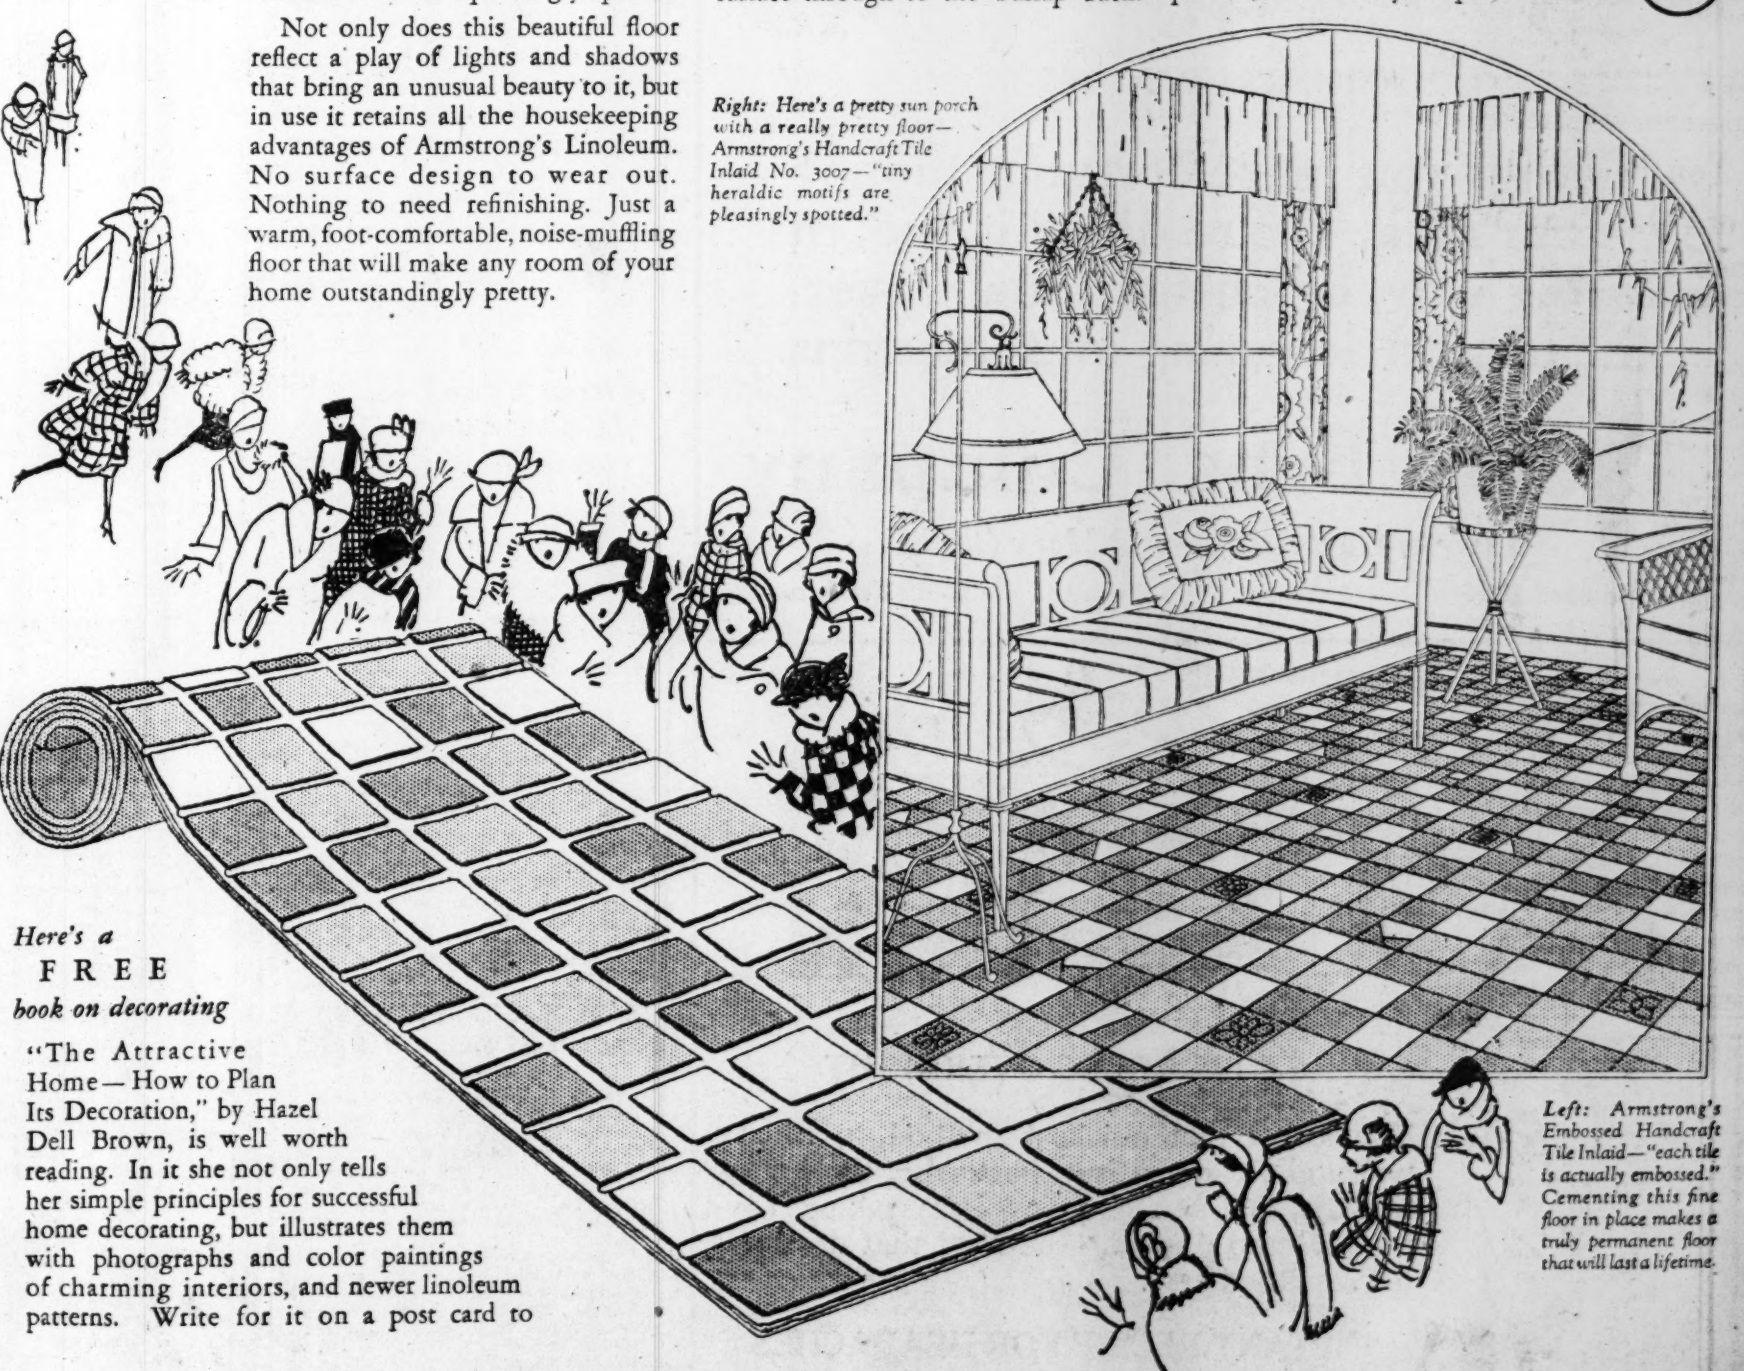

Local stores now have these Embossed Handcraft Tiles of Armstrong's on display.

See the NEW Marbleized tiles, too

In addition to these embossed patterns, Armstrong now offers over 180 designs in inlaid linoleum, including the NEW marbleized tiles. All Armstrong's inlaid patterns—even these marbleized patterns—are truly "inlaid." The designs run from the attractive surface through to the burlap back.

Even lower in price—Armstrong's Printed Linoleum

These floors are nationally known for the beauty of their designs, the accuracy with which these designs are printed, and for really exceptional wear.

Here's a FREE book on decorating

"The Attractive Home—How to Plan Its Decoration," by Hazel Dell Brown, is well worth reading. In it she not only tells her simple principles for successful home decorating, but illustrates them with photographs and color paintings of charming interiors, and newer linoleum patterns. MANY TEAMS TO ARRIVE TODAY FOR TECH RELAYS

Havana Squad Here; Last Year's Champs Due This Morning

Officials To Meet Tonight To Complete Final Arrangements—Thursday's Rains Put Track in Fine Condition.

BY CARTER BARRON.

With the University of Havana track stars already in the city, and teams representing a dozen big colleges scheduled to arrive today, everything is set for the annual Tech relays Saturday afternoon on Grant field.

Teams of the University of Indiana, Ohio State, Tulane, University of Mississippi, L. S. U., Mississippi Aggies, winner of the relays for the past two years, and the University of North Carolina are among those expected before tonight, when a session of officials will be held at the Atlanta Athletic club to complete final arrangements.

The Havana squad—five strong—came in Thursday morning and worked out at Grant field in the afternoon. In the team are J. Barrientos, last year's 100 and 200-yard dashes, and A. Barrientos, Notoroso, Compisano and O'Jeda. The team will have entrants in the half-mile relay, sprint medley and 100 and 200 yard dashes, being forced to pass up other events because of restrictions placed on the size of the team by the distance it has to travel.

Tulane will bring a team that probably will rank as favorites in the half-mile relay. The Green runners covered the distance in 1:36 in a recent meet at Oxford, Miss. Tulane also will enter men in the high jump hurdles and some of the dashes. From all accounts the Mississippi Aggies will send a delegation that will be equally as strong as the championship teams of the last two years. The Aggies always mean trouble on the cinder paths and this year will be no exception.

Not a great deal is known of the strength of Indiana and Ohio State, but Big Ten teams always provide some of the toughest opposition in the country. The track is in fine shape, Thursday's rains serving to bed it down nicely, and barring further heavy rains, should be very fast. With the teams that are entered and a fast track, there are liable to be some new records Sunday morning.

Bluebirds Play Lanier Hi Today

Coach Frank Simpson, of the University School for Boys, will gather up his ball tossers today for a trip to Macon, where the Bluebirds meet the Lanier high diamond stars. U. S. B. has gone so far without being defeated by any prep school this season. They have one of the prettiest working teams in the prep league, and will give the Lanier Poets some real opposition today. Lanier also has a jam-up outfit.

Green, Van Brocklin and McHenry will be the hurling for the Bluebirds, while Speer, catcher; Freeman, first base; Butler, second base; Martin, shortstop; Wilder, third base; Hamm, left field; Davenport, center field; and Speaks, right field, compose the rest of the lineup.

Going along as substitutions for the Bluebirds are Carpenter, McMillan, Jones, Burton and Weaver.

Larry Avera Signs For Seaborne Mix

Larry Avera, junior welterweight champion of the south, has been matched with Kid Seaborne, of New Orleans, for a ten-round affair at Mobile on April 27, according to an announcement made Thursday by Billy Lotz, who handles Avera's affairs.

The Atlanta scrapper has started a winning streak that, from all indications, should carry him a considerable distance toward the top. His last mix-up was in an Atlanta ring, when he won the decision over Sailor Sid Taylor in a fast battle.

DYER IS KILLED BY SPEEDING CAR

was on the scene. The dying man was taken to Grady hospital in the vehicle driven by J. L. Clark, but physicians said life was extinct. Dyer suffered a crushed skull, internal injuries and several valuable clues. Police in several cities south of Atlanta were notified and the roads are carefully watched.

Colorado Citizen.

Dyer came to Atlanta a month ago from Englewood, Col. His son is employed by contractors who are erecting the big Sears-Roebuck plant on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Edgar White, 18, of 609 Brookline street, told Call Officer C. G. Hughes that he was within three feet of Dyer when the speeding car swerved towards the sidewalk. Traffic was reported light on the street.

741 Peachtree street, said they saw the body drop and at first believed a tire cover was lost. Davis and Lawson were standing near Lee and Dimmock streets at the time they saw continuing that the auto was running faster than 50 miles an hour. Yellow lettering was noticed on the tire cover, witnesses told the police.

Dyer is survived by his wife; two sons, Francis and Lawton Dyer, of Atlanta, and a daughter, Mrs. Fannie Seitz, of Arvada, Colo. Five brothers and a sister. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

BURTON INJURED BY AGED DRIVER.

Alleged to have been struck by an automobile driven by Charles W. Green, 75 years old, of 409 South Pryor street, at Ivy and Houston streets early Thursday night, H. B. Burton, Jr., of Briarcliff road, was injured, according to police reports.

Green was taken to police headquarters on a charge of reckless driving and he informed the officers that he failed to stop because he believed his machine only brushed the young man. He said he would have investigated further, but could find no place to park.

Robert Hodges, whose address was not given, followed the car and reported the accident to Patrolman J. W. Woolley, who was directing traffic several blocks away. Burton suffered injuries about the legs and body.

POLICEMAN HURT MAKING ARREST.

Policeman P. H. McLean narrowly escaped injury Thursday night, when, according to reports, his motorcycle was rammed from the rear by an auto operated by L. E. Pace, 28, of 135 Borne street, on Highland avenue near the Southern railway crossing.

The policeman said he was attempting to arrest Pace when the crash occurred. He escaped with a few bruises and arrested the operator on charges of reckless driving and speeding. Acting Police Chief Cunnally released Pace on a copy of charges.

THREE SLIGHTLY HURT IN ACCIDENTS.

Miss Madeline Campbell, 30, of 146 Lindsey street, was treated at Grady hospital Thursday for a fractured right shoulder she told physicians she received in an automobile accident late Wednesday night. Miss Campbell did not state where the accident happened and no report has been filed at police station.

W. M. Zimmerman, of 18 Tuman yards, was cut about the chest when, according to his story to Grady hospital attendants—his car crashed into a tree. Zimmerman did not tell where the accident happened and police are without details of the accident.

A negro boy whose identity was not learned by police, was knocked down by an automobile at Martin and Hammond streets Thursday, according to a report made to Patrolman H. Clay by A. C. Crumley, of 136 Belmont avenue. Crumley told Officer Clay that he was driving the car which struck the negro when he offered to take the negro to the hospital the latter stated that he was not hurt and went on his way to school. Crumley then drove to police station and reported the accident.

PAXOS MEETS JIU JITSU STAR HERE TUESDAY

As an added attraction to the heavyweight wrestling championship for Tuesday night at the city auditorium, between the champion, John Contos, promoter, announced Thursday night that Taro Miyake, who claims himself a champion, will grapple two rounds with John Paxos. Jiu jitsu wrestling is that way. The Jap athletes growl and bark and snarl for 20 minutes and then they take a rest unless a fall is scored between times. Paxos, Chicago Greek, who has appeared here several times, is a successful fighter and has a promise to Contos Thursday that if other things do not prevent he will referee Tuesday's bouts. The Crackers open without giving up in opposition to the Jap's jiu jitsu holds.

Extraordinary efforts to obtain the best of all wrestling referees at the night, sent word that they will arrive Thursday in a tentative announcement by Promoter Contos that Miyake will give a promise to Contos Thursday that if other things do not prevent he will referee Tuesday's bouts. The Crackers open without giving up in opposition to the Jap's jiu jitsu holds.

Both Stecher and Zysko, who will provide the main attraction of the night, sent word that they will arrive Monday to finish preparations for what will be the greatest card this city ever has had presented.

Forrest Adair's Boat Runs Second

St. Augustine, Fla., April 8.—(AP)—"Miss Palm Beach Days," owned and driven by W. P. Bigelow, of the Palm Beach Yacht club, was awarded the race for the interstate trophy of the American Power Boat association, a 60-mile event for gold cup boats, when "Miss Tampa," owned by D. P. Davis, millionaire Florida developer, was disqualified in the third heat by Walter Burgess, driver, by his "cutting" of a buoy on the south turn.

"Saratoga," Forest Air, Sarasota, was automatically given second place. The boats ran 20 miles on Tuesday and "Miss Tampa" won. All three got away to a bad start in the second heat today and they were all disqualified before the heat was completed, being called in by Charles F. Chapman, secretary of the racing committee of the American Power Boat association, general chairman of the regatta.

'BAMA GOLFERS TO PLAY TECH TEAM TODAY

With a victory over the Sewanee golfers fresh in their bag, and last year's champion and runner-up in their ranks, the University of Alabama golfers will invade Atlanta today, tackling Captain Bill Spalding and his Georgia Tech machine wielders.

However, with Watts Gunn, runner-up to Bobby Jones in the national amateur title play, in the Tech lineup, things may not be so soft for the Crimson team. In addition to Spalding and Gunn, Johnny Bachman, sensational Rome (Ga.) player, and Joe Williams, will compose the Tech team.

Glen Crisman, southern champ, and Bobby Baugh, Jr., runner-up in last year's tournament, will lead the invaders, with Bob Thames and Frank Blackford as the other members of the team.

TECH-AUBURN NINES CLASH HERE TODAY

BY CARTER BARRON.

Leading rivals for southern conference honors will clash here this afternoon when the Auburn Tigers meet Coach Clay's Tech baseballers on Grant field in the opener of a two-game series. The fracas will start at 3 o'clock.

Both teams have been going great guns this year, and the games today and tomorrow may play a big part in determining the 1926 champions. To date, Tech has lost but one game, succumbing before the Clemson onslaught, while Auburn has been beaten by the Birmingham Barons and Tulane Greenies. On the other hand, Auburn's win column shows a larger total than that of the Jackets.

"Big Bill" Edwards, Tech's Walter Johnson, probably will face the Painmen in his first start of the year, although Johnny Conn, the old faithful, is ready for duty. Edwards has yet to start his first game of the year, but he has turned in some splendid exhibitions in the capacity of relief chubbies. He probably will be opposed by "Dog Face" Sheridan, ace of the Auburn corps.

Tech will line up practically the same as in the Notre Dame series, with Miller playing right field and leading off; Moreland, 2b.; Reeves, ss.; Angley, c.; Wycoff, cf.; Merkle, lf.; Crowley, 3b., and Brewer, 1b.

The same teams will play Saturday, and Snead probably will be assigned to the hill.

TIGERS BRING SIX CHUCKERS.

Auburn, Ala., April 8.—(Special.) Coach Moore and 16 Tiger baseballers left Auburn Thursday night for Atlanta, where they are to engage the Yellow Jacket diamond squad in a two-game series Friday and Saturday.

Six pitchers were included in the list making the trip. They are Sheridan, Hughes, Moulton, Hardwick, Wood and Potter. The two catchers are E. James and K. Maury. Infielders are: J. James, captain; Stewart, Sankey and Hitchcock, while the outfielder list includes Wallis, Self, Ellis and Akin. The baseball party was in charge of "Shorty" Johnson, student manager.

The Tigers have started defeat on only two occasions this season and have bowed to only one conference foe—Tulane—the other defeat having been administered by the Birmingham club of the Southern association.

Sheridan probably will start against the Georgians, but Coach Moore will have plenty of pitching talent in reserve, and may save his ace for the Saturday encounter.

The opening of this park has caused much interest in local golf circles as it is the third municipal golf course in the city, and will help relieve the congestion on the other two municipal courses on Saturdays and holidays.

L. J. Wallis, manager of city parks, has had his men working on the course for some time in order to lay it in shape for the tournament Friday.

The new course will offer all-rounders the same as the other two public courses. It will have just as good putting greens and the fairway will be in just as good shape.

The medal play will be the feature Friday, bringing together some of the best women golfers in the south. Aside from the medal play, there will be a driving contest in which every woman in Atlanta is invited to compete, whether or not she is a member of the association. The committee in charge of the program will furnish clubs and balls for this event.

WOMEN'S PLAY TODAY TO OPEN PUBLIC LINKS

BY BILL WHITE.

A pair of bingles in the last half of the ninth inning Thursday gave Tech High school a 4-to-3 victory over Boys' High in the only Prep league game of the day. Two other tilts were booked, but both were canceled when the morning's rains made mud puddles of the uncovered diamonds.

Royston, on the mound for the Smithies, not only held Boys' high to six hits, but played big part in the ninth inning rally that spelled victory. With none out in the ninth, he singled, stole second, and crossed the plate on Tubby Allen's single.

Breezy Winn, Hurricane ace, also was in fine fettle, and he and Royston indulged in a beautiful old-fashioned hurling duel. Both held the opposition to six hits. Royston fanning 12 and Winn nine, while Winn was a bit the wilder, issuing three passes, as compared with Royston's one.

Both teams scored in the first. Boys' High starting the fireworks when McGaughey doubled, went to third on a sacrifice, and counted on an infield out. Boys' High loaded the bases in this frame, but couldn't produce the necessary punch. Tech High proceeded to even things up in their half of the inning when Allen was hit by a pitched ball, stole second, and scored on Reagin's miscue.

The fourth was the big inning for both teams. Two hit batsmen, an infield out, and singles by McGaughey and Stephens gave Boys' High two runs, but Tech High got them both back on three errors and a pair of hits.

McGaughey starred with the willow for Boys' High, bagging out three hits. Royston led the hitting attack for the victors.

The Marist-Fulton game, scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed until today, when the teams will clash on the Cadets' lot.

SENATORS HUMILIATE GIANTS, OLD FOES, 7 TO 0

EDITED BY H.C. HAMILTON

Reuther, Marberry Check New Yorkers; Scott Is Hit Hard

Fielding of Opposing Big League Teams Slowed by Soft Diamond—Last Game Until Local Opening Day.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

The New York Giants ran about the old lambasting, uncaring baseball machine which in 1924 beat them for the world's baseball championship and the Washington Senators won another ball game at Spiller field—not only won it, but also shut out the cocky Giants, 7 to 0, the second time the trick has been turned since the Giants started their barnstorming tour homeward from Florida.

In spite of the fact that rain fell intermittently all through the morning and that it appeared the game might not be played there was a goodly outpouring of local fans intent upon seeing the teams which had engaged in one of the most colorful of all world's series contests.

Fast Double Plays. As a baseball game the contest was not an extraordinary exhibition, for the field was slow and the score was overwhelmingly in favor of the American leaguers, but the fast Washington infield, stirring pitching by the Senator hurling corps, and some fast work from the outfield were good to look upon. Aside from the New York Yankees the Senators displayed their finest bit of big league work which had been presented at the local field. The Giants did not live up to advance notices which had been displayed for the edification of local fans.

Two fast double plays featured the defensive work of the Senators in holding the Giants away from the plate. One of these was executed from the outfield when the strong arm of Goose Goslin, operating from left field, cut down a Giant runner at second after he had attempted to advance on a line drive.

Jack Scott, whose reformation as a big league pitching star has been heralded as an event in the rejuvenation of the former terror of the National league, started on the mound for the New Yorkers, and for two innings he toiled in first class, his league style, but in the third the Senators uncoiled an attack which resulted in a run, followed in the fourth with three counters, and then in the eighth leaped on Jimmy Ring, one of the heroes of the 1919 world's series, and counted the additional three tallies.

Scores on Double. To start the third inning Muddy Ruel led off with a slashing single to and Meusel smashed out a weak pop fly to Peckinpaugh.

That double was the sole hit off the aging, but improving Reuther until the fourth inning when he yielded a single to Frank Frisch. Young immediately sacrificed and Meusel caught one on the nose for a drive to left field. Frisch dashed for third, but Goslin reached the ball, caught it and threw to Harris at second base for an easy double play.

Kelly led off for the New Yorkers in the fifth with a punch to right field, but the next three men were knocked off in rapid succession, ending the entire proceedings for the Giants.

With one man down in the seventh Meusel singled, but Kelly hit into a double play, Marberry to Myer to Judge. Buddy Myer, the former New Orleans flash, had succeeded Roger Peckinpaugh at shortstop.

With two gone in the eighth Meulen, young and peppery Giant catcher, singled, but Ring fanned to end that inning.

Fielding was not the fastest in the world during the contest, due to the soft condition of the diamond, but there were some sparkling plays.

The game was the last of the spring exhibition season arranged by Dan Michalove for Atlanta fans. The next contest here will bring together Chattanooga and the Crackers in the opening game of the Southern league season in Atlanta Thursday afternoon.

The Crackers play today at Asheville, opposing the Asheville club of the South Atlantic league. They leave Atlanta Monday for Nashville for a two-game series with the Vols, opening the season.

At the lower right Al Schacht is attempting to find something in the head of Nick Altrock, famous clown.

Meeting Is Held To Form League

Anderson, S. C., April 8.—(AP)—Representatives of Anderson and Seneca, and Toccoa, Ga., met here yesterday afternoon and discussed the prospects of forming a four or six club Georgia-Carolina baseball league. Definite action is expected to be taken at a meeting to be held next Wednesday, April 14, in Seneca, at which time representatives of other cities interested are expected to be present.

There appears to be practically no prospect of reorganizing the Carolina Independent league with the six cities composing the circuit last year. Anderson and Greenwood are the only clubs which have shown interest in the circuit this year, and the latter was not represented here yesterday.

Cities invited to send representatives to next week's meeting include Hendersonville and Gastonia, N. C.; Athens, Elberton and Toccoa, Ga., and Greenwood.

In the event that a league is perfected the officials will consider entering organized baseball in Class D.

PETRELS MEET FIRST G. I. A. ENEMY TODAY

BY LAMAR JACKSON.

Coach Frank Anderson's Oglethorpe Petrels will meet their first S. I. A. A. opponent this afternoon when they face the fast Birmingham-Southern baseballers in the first of a two-game series.

The invaders boast a strong nine this season and have in past years afforded the Petrels plenty of trouble, being barely beaten at the hands of Dave Barbee and Lefty Willis, two of the Petrels' pitching aces, last season.

The Buchanan brothers will do the hurling over the week-end, with probably Thad, the elder of the two, stepping on the rubber in today's game, with Hugh to see action in the final game. Thad, who pitched airtight ball against Dartmouth, and gave up only three hits, is expected to give the visitors a tough afternoon. Justus will probably work behind the plate.

Following the series with Birmingham-Southern, the Petrels will journey to Macon to meet the Mercer Bears in a two-game series Monday and Tuesday.

Stribling-Carpentier Fight To Be Held In Macon July 5

Frenchman Accepts $20,000 Offer of Promoters To Fight Georgia School Boy in South Georgia Town—Young Stribling Leaves For Fight Tour.

Macon, Ga., April 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—At a conference between "Pa" Stribling and members of the local American Legion sports committee here this morning, it was definitely decided to stage a ten-round decision fight here on Monday, July 5, between Young Stribling and Georges Carpentier, subject to final arrangements with Carpentier.

It is understood that Georges assured "Pa" in Miami last week that he would accept the $20,000 offered him for such a bout, and the matter is considered definitely closed by legion representatives.

The legion will sponsor the fight, which will be promoted jointly by "Pa" and Floyd Fitzsimmons, new manager of Jack Dempsey. Therein lies a tale, for it was the local legion post that sponsored Young Stribling's fights back in the days when he was making a name for himself as the Georgia schoolboy fighter.

"Pa" left Macon immediately after the conference for Atlanta. Young Stribling, his wife, and Mrs. W. O. Kinney, his mother-in-law, leave tonight to join him, and then begins a tour of the west for a fight in Wichita, Kan., with Chick Burns on Monday night. Another bout is scheduled in Oklahoma City on the following Wednesday night, and then on April 20 Stribling meets Joe Lohman in Kansas City.

After the Kansas City fight the Striblings will return to Macon to prepare for the Risico fight in Madison Square Garden, New York, on May 14. Carpentier is slated to battle Eddie Hoffman in the Garden arena on May 18. The two men are expected to return to Macon after the two battles to prepare for the July 5 fracas.

Stribling was offered a bout with Eddie Hoffman in Los Angeles on April 28, but the offer was declined, since he did not care to go that far west on his brief jaunt through that section the coming three weeks.

NO CONTRACTS SIGNED—CURLEY.

New Orleans, La., April 8.—(AP)—Jack Curley, American representative of Georges Carpentier, French lightweight, said today that as yet no contracts had been signed nor agreements reached for Carpentier to meet Young Stribling at Macon, Ga., July 4.

"Pa" Stribling wired for my terms, but I informed him that it was too far ahead to talk business now," Curley said. "We have just signed Georges for a match with Paul Berlenbach if we are successful against Hoffman. Everything depends on this match and we cannot tie ourselves up too far ahead."

Curley said, however, that Carpentier would be willing to talk terms for a Stribling match after his encounter with Hoffman.

3 KILLED, 20 HURT IN JERSEY WRECK

Camden, N. J., April 8.—Three persons were killed and more than a score seriously injured when the Pennsylvania railroad's train No. 1077, bound for Atlantic City from New York, left the rails and was wrecked near Morris Junction at 5:15 p. m. Thursday.

The dead: William Mentz, 34 East Twentieth street, New York city, a passenger; John O'Connor, Jersey City, the engineer; Arthur Rankin, Jersey City, the fireman.

The train, an express from New York to Atlantic City, made up entirely of parlor cars, was speeding through a heavy mist near the bridge across the Delaware river when the accident occurred.

Leaving the rails, the locomotive and the first of nine Pullmans overturned, and it was this car that most of the victims were taken.

The express carried passengers who were intending to enjoy the arrival of spring at the famous resort city.

Douglas Robinson Unable To Recall Events of Week

Rochester, N. Y., April 8.—(P)—Two worried parents found their wandering, amnesia stricken son in a hospital here tonight and ended in a happy reunion after a six-day search.

The son was Douglas Robinson, 21-year-old Harvard student, who had been missing from his Cambridge, Mass., rooming house since last Thursday.

The parents were Theodore Douglas Robinson, assistant secretary of the navy, and Mrs. Robinson, who had come from Washington to Boston and finally to Rochester in search of their boy.

Robinson was picked up dazed in the street here this morning and was taken to St. Mary's hospital, a victim of amnesia.

The amnesia failed, however, to prevent recognition of his parents, who reached here late this afternoon, but it apparently had taken nearly a week from his life. The parents, overjoyed at seeing him again, were warned by physicians to make no attempt now to draw out the story of his wanderings. They were able to learn from the few questions permitted them that he has only a hazy recollection of a Cambridge street last Thursday, then a blank until he saw two lights, apparently those of an automobile, and finally came back to realization of his presence in St. Mary's hospital.

"My boy apparently is normal and healthy," Mr. Robinson said tonight, "but a week is gone from his life. He cannot remember how or why he came to Rochester."

Mr. Robinson said he planned to take his son home to the hospital tomorrow, but had not decided whether the family would go to New York, Washington or Boston. With Mrs. Robinson, he will be the guest here tonight of Thomas G. Spencer, a friend and classmate, and then it is planned as early as possible tomorrow to take the youth back home.

Coolidge Is Told Congress To Quit Within 2 Months

Washington, April 8.—(P)—President Coolidge was told today by Chairman Smoot, of the senate finance committee, and Chairman Madden, of the house appropriation committee, that congress would probably adjourn between May 15 and June 1.

The legislative calendar, they said, was in good shape with nothing of major importance in sight outside of disposing of the remaining appropriation bills, the Italian debt settlement and possibly passing some form of farm relief legislation.

Both visitors expressed doubt that action would be taken to put into effect the administration's plan for divorce of the shipping board and Senator Smoot, who had been a member of the Boulder Canyon dam project would be passed at this session.

CHARLES HUGHES DEFINES THEATER REVUE IN COURT

New York, April 8.—(P)—A theatrical revue was a "vaudeville act garnished with girls," by Charles Evans Hughes in court today. The former secretary of state was called on to define a number of theater terms as counsel for the E. F. Keith Theatrical Exchange, Inc. The term "flash," he said, was applied to any feature in which a song or a spectacle was a prominent part.

Mr. Hughes appeared before the United States circuit court of appeals to oppose the appeal of Max Hart, a veteran bookie agent, from an order of Federal Judge Augustus N. Hand, dismissing his suit for an injunction to restrain the Keith exchange from "monopolizing" the booking agency business. Hart said the Keith theatrical exchange had excluded him from the floor of the exchange. He sued for exemplary damages, in addition to the injunction.

After a spirited discussion of the merits of the suit, between Mr. Hughes and Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Hart, the court reserved decision. Mr. Littleton contended that the Keith exchange operated in violation of the interstate commerce act. Mr. Hughes cited former court decisions.

Deaths Expected To Free Convict Serving 54 Years

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Waukon, Wis., April 8.—William Maxwell, 88, who has served 54 years in the state penitentiary here for first-degree murder, is nearing the end of his confinement. Death will liberate the aged convict, who doesn't want a pardon because he is "happier in the prison than I would be anywhere else now."

He is spending his remaining days on a sick bed in the prison hospital, too feeble to walk or engage in his profession as chief engineer of the institution.

Maxwell's 54 years in confinement are being served for killing a man in defense of a woman's honor, he says. In a Peabody saloon Maxwell shot a drunk who attempted to kiss a young wife who entered the place in search of her husband. The shooting was in self-defense, Maxwell claims, because the drunk attempted to draw a gun, but Maxwell was too quick for him.

Maxwell has one of the longest prison records in American history. He has kept in touch with the world's advancement through constant reading. More than 35,000 men and women have been confined and released from the prison since he entered there in 1892.

GEORGIA POWER FIRM RUNS LINE TO SENOIA

Senoia, Ga., April 8.—(Special).—At a recent meeting of the city council the Georgia Railway & Power company was given a franchise to come into Senoia and its power line is expected to enter the city within the next 90 days.

This will enable mill and factory interests to locate here, as the city possesses some of the best sites in the state. Several factory and mill interests are investigating now with an idea of locating here, as this is the junction of the A. B. & A. and the Central of Georgia railway, unexcelled railroad facilities affording ample transportation in every way.

A variety mill has selected a location and the manager is now in New York to purchase equipment. The Pan-American Oil company has just erected two 35,000-gallon oil tanks here.

The county recently voted to exempt all new enterprises from taxation for the first five years.

GEORGIA JUDGE BILL FAVORABLY REPORTED

Washington, April 8.—(Special).—The bill creating a new judicial district in Georgia was reported favorably by the judiciary committee to the house Thursday, and Representative Larsen, who drafted the measure, announced afterward that he would seek a special rule to bring up the bill for action in the house next week.

As approved and reported by the committee Thursday the bill places the Valdosta division, the point of long dispute, in the southern district.

Representative Lankford, who has sought consistently to have the Valdosta division, which is in his own district, placed in the proposed new middle division, has not withdrawn his opposition to the bill as it stands, but has not determined whether he will oppose it on the floor or let it go through the house in its present form and use his influence to have the change he desires made by the senate.

Senator Harris is strongly in favor of including Valdosta in the new middle district, and will make every effort to have the change made when the senate takes up the measure.

Bidders Discuss U. S. Partnership Plan for Shoals

Washington, April 8.—(P)—The government partnership plan for the operation of Muscle Shoals was discussed with the joint congressional committee today by Eton H. Hooker and J. G. White, of New York.

The bid was submitted with slight modifications but calls for an agreement for the government to put up the capital and the operation of the plant by a corporation to be set up by the bidders.

After being in session about an hour, the bidders left with assurances that they will have a formal bid ready for presentation Saturday, the last day set by the committee to receive bids for consideration.

Five other bidders are expected to be on hand with bids on that day, including the Southern Power company, the American Cyanamide company, the Union Carbide company, the American Nitrogen Products company and J. E. Levering, a local engineer for nitrate plant No. 1.

Veteran Killed by Auto.

Memphis, Tenn., April 8.—(P)—Johnson Chapman, 42, superintendent of the United States government fleet at Memphis, died here tonight as a result of injuries received when struck by an automobile Wednesday. W. T. Whitley, assistant auditor of the Peabody hotel, was charged with reckless driving in connection with the occurrence. Mr. Chapman was a first lieutenant in the air service during the world war and came here from St. Louis several months ago.

Governor Walker has appointed Miss Margaret Doree, of Augusta, to membership on the Georgia state board of nurses' examiners to succeed Mrs. Lillian O. Reed, of Augusta, resigned.

SOUTHEASTERN POWER OUTPUT INCREASES

New York, April 8.—(Special).—The high rate of industrial activity in the territory served by the hydro-electric transmission system of the Southeastern Power and Light company covering Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and west Florida, or an area of more than 100,000 square miles, is reflected in the production figures of its subsidiaries.

Power output of the Alabama Power company, Georgia Railway and Power company, Mississippi Power company and Gulf Electric company for March reached 158,598,325 kilowatt hours, an increase of 33 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

For the 12 months ended March last, output was 1,752,733,878 kilowatt hours, or 25 per cent in excess of the previous year. The Alabama Power company, the principal subsidiary, extended rural electric service to 840 new farm consumers in 1925, bringing the total number of farmers served to 1,764. Electric energy was extended to 53 new towns. Output of the Alabama company's plans increased 36 per cent and the number of retail consumers 25 per cent.

Elaborate Social Gaieties To Honor Convention Delegates

Elaborate social entertainment is planned for the delegates and visitors of the American Cotton Shippers' association who are attending the annual convention April 9 and 10 at the Atlanta Biltmore, also for the wives and daughters who will be present.

A beautiful luncheon will be given today in honor of the visiting ladies at 1:30 o'clock at the Druid Hills Golf club, followed by a motor trip to Stone Mountain.

Local Committee.
The ladies will be met at 12:30 today on the mezzanine floor of the Biltmore by Mrs. Robert Edgar Smythe, chairman of the ladies' entertainment committee, and Mrs. Frank M. Inman, Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., Mrs. F. G. Hill, Mrs. R. W. Johnston, Mrs. Julius T. Jennings, Mrs. Henry Inman, Mrs. J. J. Williamson, Mrs. F. J. Riordan, Mrs. Fred Cockrell, Mrs. George R. Argo, Mrs. D. D. Summey, Mrs. Thomas S. Denton, Mrs. J. Hope Tigner, Mrs. Bulow Campbell and Mrs. E. B. Proctor.

This committee of ladies will escort the visitors to the Druid Hills club, where luncheon will be served. At the luncheon several entertainment specialties will be given, such as songs, recitations and dances.

At 4:30 today at the Biltmore hotel a luncheon will be given for the delegates and visiting gentlemen attending this convention.

Elaborate Banquet.
At 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Piedmont Driving club an elaborate banquet and ball will be given for the visiting ladies and the delegates and members of the American Cotton Shippers' association. The committee in charge of arrangements is Joseph K. T. Van Pelt, chairman; Robert A. Smythe, Thomas S. Denton, Comer Howell and Julius T. Jennings.

During the banquet individual dances will be given by the following "Peachtree blossoms": Miss Jones, Miss Mooring, Miss Sanders and Miss Robinson. Several dances will be given by each. Following this there will be an exhibition by the "Champion Charleston" Dancer of the Southeast.

Eugene R. Black, president of the Atlanta Trust company, will be toastmaster, and 15-minute talks will be given by Mayor Walter A. Sims, welcoming the association; and by Honorable Hoke Smith, ex United States senator and secretary of Interior, on the subject of the "United States Control of Future Transactions On the Exchanges." Dancing will be enjoyed with music by "Peerless Entertainers," during the latter part of the evening.

An attractive souvenir of the occasion will be the menu cards which contain an engraved tale of cotton, an engraved picture of the Atlanta Commercial Exchange building, the Atlanta Commercial Exchange being the hosts at this banquet. On the entire back page, is an engraved

This affair will assemble 500 guests prominent in the cotton world, a large number being members of the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges as well as representatives from every cotton state in the south and several foreign countries.

Business Women's Meeting First Methodist Church.

The Business Women's league of the First Methodist church will be entertained by Mrs. W. C. Royer's circle at the church on Friday evening, April 9, at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Francis Block, who has recently returned from a trip around the world, will give a talk on the Taj Mahal memorial in India, and a delightful program has been arranged.

Mrs. Ella Carter, president of the Business Women's league, urges the members to be present on this occasion and also extends a cordial invitation to those who would like to hear Mrs. Block's talk.

Girls' High Glee Club To Give Operetta.

An event of interest to all students, alumnae and friends of the Girls' High school is the announcement of the operetta, "My Spanish Sweetheart," to be given April 10 at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium at 2:30 and 8:30 o'clock. This will be the third annual presentation of the Glee club, the other two being "The Feast of the Red Corn," in 1924, and "My Maid of the Bamboo Screen," in 1925.

The scene of the operetta is laid at the colorful tulip show held annually in Holland, at which all the people strive for the prizes which are given for the most beautiful tulip.

The operetta is a delightful story of a young girl who is traveling in Holland with her chaperons and two guides, who are typical so-called "Yankees."

Much talent is displayed in the interpretation given the roles by the girls who play them. The roles of Jimmy and Tommy, the guides, are well played by Emily Laree and Margaret Dunaway. Doris Baker gives a very good interpretation of the role of Carlita, the Spanish dancer. Pauline Edwards is delightful in Don Pedro, the fiery Spanish nobleman in love with Carlita. Adele Bird plays the part of Mary, the English girl who is not so tame as she appears. Pauline Hensley plays the part of Sue, another English girl. Sara Lee Potts and Margaret Bodeker make a delightful pair of Spanish lovers. Juanita and Jaun, Winifred Hubbard, Margaret Eason, Carolyn English and Ruth Boardman are two pairs of Dutch twins deeply concerned with the awarding of the prize at the tulip show. Many other roles of Dutch kiddies, Spanish dancers and English boys and girls are well handled.

The music will be taken care of by the pianists, Virginia Cunningham, Ardis Colby, and Matilda Garber.

Meeting Date Is Changed.
The April meeting of the Elementary League at the Second Baptist church was changed to Friday evening, April 9, instead of Tuesday, April 4. The meeting will begin at 6 o'clock, lasting until 8 o'clock, and Miss Meme Brockway, well-known author and speaker, of Philadelphia, will be the speaker.

Miss Brockway is well known for her charming books for children and is in charge of the children's work for the Baptist Publication Society of Philadelphia. She is noted also as a speaker of charming personality, and her talk on "Tom and the Church" will attract a large audience of workers with children.

Beautiful Bride.
Miss Collins' titian beauty was never lovelier than in her wedding gown of heavy white satin trimmed in rose point lace. The skirt was made full with a band of lace around the bottom divided and extending up the front to the waist, forming a panel. The becoming basque bodice was cut Y-shape in the back and front. The bride carried her mother's real lace handkerchief which she carried on her wedding day. Her flowers were white roses, lilies of the valley and swinson.

Reception at Home.
Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. David Collins entertained at a small reception at their home on East Fourteenth street in honor of the wedding party and the two immediate families.

Throughout the lovely home a profusion of southern smilax, lilies and ferns were used as decorations. In the dining room the table was overlaid with a real lace cover and held as a center decoration the beautiful bride's cake. At intervals were placed silver candlesticks holding pink burning tapers. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Collins, the bride and groom and members of the wedding party. Mrs. Collins, mother of the bride, was groomed in white beaded georgette crepe.

Miss Boyce Lokey served punch. She was groomed in pink taffeta trimmed in French flowers. The

Collings-Wilcoxon Wedding Is Beautiful Church Event

Marked by unusual beauty was the marriage Thursday evening of Miss Mary Jeannette Collings and Cleveland Raine Wilcoxon, which took place at 8:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Dr. Sprule Lyons officiated in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives.

Church Decorations.
The church was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns. The altar was banked in a pyramid shape of ferns and palms and standing baskets of Easter lilies. At intervals were placed candelabra holding soft, white burning tapers. A delightful program of nuptial music was rendered preceding the ceremony. Mrs. Elysa Carswell sang, "I Love Thee," and "All for You." Charles A. Shelton rendered several delightful organ selections.

Bridal Party.
The bridesmaids entered alone alternating with the groomsmen down the two side aisles and crossing at the altar. They were all groomed alike in flesh-colored georgette trimmed in taffeta. Around the waist were dainty French flowers, which was cut pointed in the back and from the end of the point hung a long graceful bow of taffeta. They carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lavender swinson.

Misses Mary Jimmie Pattillo, Catherine Raine, Janie Coleman and Lelia Collings were the bridesmaids and the groomsmen were Hugh Van Deventer, of Knoxville, Tenn.; David Collings, a brother of the bride; Eliza Vickers and Walter Jerry.

Entering next was Mrs. Frank Ward Rieley, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who preceded the bride. She was groomed like the bridesmaids, her flowers were a shower bouquet of pink roses and lavender sweet peas.

The ushers were George Shook, of Birmingham, Ala.; Marion Watson, George Raine, cousin of the groom; Hiram Melone, J. W. White and Dr. Hugh Lokey.

The bride entered with her father, David Collings, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Walter Godwin.

Wayburn on Way To Direct "Follies."
Ned Wayburn, famous New York theatrical director, who will be in charge of training, members of the 1926 Junior League "Follies," left New York Thursday night for Atlanta.

Dress rehearsals for the "Follies," which will be staged the week of April 12 at the Atlanta theater, will be inaugurated by Mr. Wayburn as soon as he arrives here, New York advices said.

Miss Katherine Haverty Given Lovely Party.
Miss Katherine Murphy was hostess at a beautiful seated luncheon Thursday at her home on Peachtree street complimenting Miss Katherine Haverty, a charming bride-elect, whose marriage to Russell Bellman will be a brilliant social event of May.

The guests' places were marked by cards decorated with little hand-painted French baskets holding Dresden-shaded flowers with the monogram of the hostess placed beneath in delft blue.

Miss Murphy was wearing a becoming afternoon model of peach chiffon and a large picture hat of green Neapolitan straw.

Covers were placed for the members of Miss Haverty's bridal party and a few close friends.

Mrs. Danforth Hostess At Bridge Party.
One of the prettiest affairs of Thursday was the beautiful bridge-tee at which Mrs. Charles H. Danforth entertained at the Piedmont Driving club, honoring her visitors, Mrs. Clifton B. Leich and Miss Elizabeth Newton, of Fall River, Mass., who are spending some time with Colonel and Mrs. Danforth at their home at the Georgian Terrace.

Eighty guests were invited for this occasion, assembling many charming out-of-town guests who are spending a few days in Atlanta.

Miss Hinman Plans Tea for Visitors.
Miss Ruth Hinman, of New York, who is spending several days as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hinman, on Piedmont avenue, will entertain at a lovely tea Friday afternoon for another charming visitor in the city, Mrs. Colin Osborne, of Burlington, Ontario.

Mrs. George Hinman will assist her daughter in entertaining. A few intimate friends have been invited to meet the lovely visitor.

Polo Game at Fort McPherson Will Be Event of Sunday

An outstanding social event of Sunday afternoon, April 11, among military and civilian society will be the polo game to be given at 3 o'clock at Fort McPherson. The contesting team will be from Fort Oglethorpe and the Governor's Horse Guard. The Fort Oglethorpe team at present holds the distinction of being the champions of the south.

The game is to be given for the benefit of the building fund of the Cornelia Moore nursery, the nursery committee including Mrs. James Ragan, Mrs. Rucker McCarty, Mrs. Joel Hart, Jr., Mrs. Ewel Gay, Mrs. Brooks Morgan, Mrs. Lewis Greer, Mrs. Winship Nunnally, Mrs. Samuel Slicer, Mrs. Jerre Osborne, Mrs. Glenville Giddings, Mrs. Floyd McRae, Jr., Mrs. Harrison Jones and Mrs. Henry Tompkins.

The game is being sponsored by Mrs. Sam Slicer and Mrs. Winship Nunnally, and any further information in regard to the game may be obtained by calling them.

The price of the tickets is 50 cents for grown people and 25 cents for children. There will be no charge for parking cars containing not more than four people, but otherwise there will be a charge of 50 cents. During the afternoon there will be delightful musical selections by the 22d Infantry band.

The members of the Fort Oglethorpe team include Major Edward M. Hardy, Lieutenants T. Z. Donaldson, L. K. LaDue, Frank O. Dewey and Captain Ernest M. Harmon.

Hunt Breakfast.
Another interesting event of Fort McPherson Sunday will be the hunt breakfast at 10:30 o'clock at the officers' club, the affair to follow a two-hour's ride led by General J. D. Leich, commander of the Eighth Brigade. The riders will leave Building No. 27 at 8:30 o'clock and will include thirty-five officers and ladies prominent in military and civilian society.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY The Signing of Peace.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND GREAT BRITAIN WERE BEGUN AT PARIS IN THE SUMMER OF 1782.

JAY, ADAMS AND FRANKLIN

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN WAS ALREADY IN FRANCE AND WITH HIM JOHN JAY, JOHN ADAMS AND HENRY LAURENS WERE CHOSEN AS PEACE COMMISSIONERS. ENGLAND WAS REPRESENTED BY OSWALD, ACTING UNDER THE DIRECTION OF SHELBURNE, THE BRITISH PRIME MINISTER.

© 1925, BY THE MCCLURE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE.

THE FRENCH, WHILE DESIRING TO FREE AMERICA FROM ENGLAND, DID NOT WISH US TO BECOME A POWERFUL NATION AND, TO PREVENT THIS, PLANNED TO GIVE THE WESTERN LANDS TO HER ALLY SPAIN WHO, HOWEVER, HAD NOT AIDED US.

NOVEMBER 30, 1782.

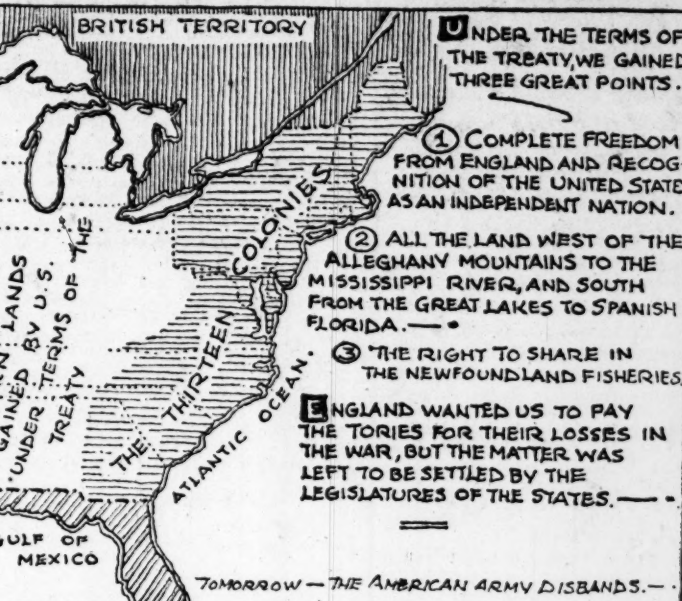

SEEING THAT VERGENNES, THE FRENCH MINISTER, INTENDED TO CONFINE THE UNITED STATES TO THE SAME NARROW STRIP ON THE ATLANTIC COAST, THE AMERICAN COMMISSIONERS, FOLLOWING JAY'S ADVICE, SIGNED A SEPARATE PEACE WITH ENGLAND AND THEREBY SECURED THE WESTERN LANDS FOR AMERICA.

FRANCE, BY AIDING US, HAD THOUGHT SHE COULD DICTATE WHAT COURSE WE SHOULD PURSUE AND HER FEELINGS WERE RUINED BY OUR MAKING PEACE WITH ENGLAND WITHOUT FRENCH APPROVAL.

A SLIGHT DIPLOMATIC BREACH AROSE WHICH WAS SMOOTHED OVER BY THE FRENCH STATESMANSHIP OF FRANKLIN AND ON SEPTEMBER 3, 1783, A GENERAL TREATY OF PEACE WAS SIGNED BY ALL PARTIES.

THE SIGNING OF THE GENERAL PEACE GAVE FORMAL RECOGNITION TO THE TERMS AGREED UPON BY ENGLAND AND AMERICA IN THEIR TREATY OF NOV. 3, 1782.

Miss Ruth Barry Weds James Riley At Quiet Ceremony

One of the loveliest of the spring weddings, marked by beautiful simplicity was that of Miss Ruth Barry and James Small Riley, which was solemnized Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Thiot Winslow, in the Ponce de Leon apartments, Dr. J. Sprole Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating.

The home was artistically decorated with cut spring flowers. In the far end of the living room was an improvised altar, before which the ceremony took place. Tall palms formed a background, and ferns and foliage plants were banded in lovely arrangement. Large white baskets holding Easter lilies were placed at intervals, and interspersed among the foliage were cathedral candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, R. E. Barry, and there were no attendants, and only the immediate families and a very few close friends were present.

The bride was lovely in a white rose satin gown fashioned along becoming lines. She wore a hat of gold lace, and her flowers were a corsage of pink roses and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony a buffet supper was served.

Mrs. Riley, who is a young woman possessing a very charming personality, has beautiful Titian colored hair. She attended school at Agnes Scott college.

She is the daughter of R. E. Barry and the late Mrs. Mary Bryon Thiot Barry, and her sister is Mrs. H. E. Watkins, of New York, formerly of Atlanta; R. A. Barry, of Florida, is her brother, and her aunt is Mrs. Elizabeth Thiot Winslow and Mrs. Edwin P. Ansley.

Mr. Riley, originally from Chicago, Ill., has made his home in Atlanta for the past two years and is prominently connected with the Starrett Brothers Construction company.

Alpha Gamma Deltas To Meet Saturday.

The Atlanta alumnae of the Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity will meet Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Miss Laurie Linthicum at her home on 314 East Fifteenth street.

Gay Naples in Scenes and Songs Shown in the Fascinating Opera "The Jewels of the Madonna"

BY BEVERLY BURGESS.

A water front—gay Naples—a festival scene—decorations of bright hunting—flowers in festoons—vari-colored lanterns—Neapolitan songs sung as only swarming Neapolitans can—such is the setting for the opening scenes of "The Jewels of the Madonna," which is to be the bill for matinee Thursday afternoon of opera week.

In this tropical, Latin country, Wolf-Ferrari has placed the scenes of the brilliant Italian music tragedy, "The Jewels of the Madonna," locking into and around the sacred usages and customs of the Latin churches, the fire and passion of the typical southern nature in all of its intensity.

Brilliant Opening.

As the curtain goes up the scene represents a public square facing the Bay of Naples, and on this square is a restless, swiftly-moving rabble awaiting the festive procession in honor of the Holy Virgin.

Facing the bay is Carmela's home, and here live not only Carmela, the mother, but Gennaro, the blacksmith's son, and Mariella, the adopted daughter.

Gennaro is passionately in love with the young girl who in turn does not requite this love.

A madcap of a creature is Mariella, showing little gratitude for the kindness of the love and care which Carmela has shown her ever since she was picked up a homeless waif in infancy. Under discipline and restraint she is restive and rebellious and looks upon Gennaro her foster brother, with disdain and contempt.

A Votive Offering.

Gennaro appears in the doorway of his home holding a wrought-iron candlestick, which he intends giving as an offering to the Madonna, whose compassionate help he is seeking in for the time being he retires to the inn to await the arrival of the procession.

As he comes on, Rafaele again finds himself beside Mariella as one of the spectators and makes the most of this opportunity to begin again his importuning, he asks "What must I give you? Must I be damned for you? Look at those jewels—the jewels of the Madonna! Shall I place them around your neck? Yes? For you!" She runs, not agreeing to this but in the next breath, chides Gennaro with Rafaele's willingness to perjure his very soul for her love.

Gennaro's Heroism.

Believing he had found a way of winning the fickle girl's love, Gennaro decides to commit this sacrifice himself for her sake and in the dark slips into the sanctuary and steals the jewels.

When he throws them in her lap, she is petrified—and yet she dresses up. With the tiara on her head and the necklace and bracelets all being slipped into place, she yields to the caresses of Gennaro.

Suddenly comes the realization of the sacrifice and heinousness of the crime and in haste she rushes to Rafaele and all of the horrible truth is forced from her by him.

Rafaele sends the Camorristi, of whom he is chief, to take Gennaro and alive. Just as Gennaro is being brought in the signal of the church bells rings, telling that the theft has been discovered.

Mariella, with Rafaele, flees to a tumultuous sea while Gennaro seeks image of the Madonna, crawls to it, stabs himself and falls dead just as the rabble reach him and the curtain falls on the last act.

Stars Heard in Jewels.

As Gennaro, Martinello will be heard, this to the great delight of all music lovers.

Florence Easton, another prime favorite with Atlantians and opera goers all over the entire south, is to take part of the madcap, Mariella. Rafaele is to be sung by Basilio and the entire cast is one of unusual voices and merit.

Little Commencement.

Athens to the forefront!

This just has to be several times yearly.

And when it happens, Atlanta looks like Goldsmith's "Deserted Village," to the college set who do have to remain behind.

"Little commencement" at Athens is rapidly approaching—much to the delight of hundreds of college boys and girls scattered all over this broad southland.

An elastic little town is this Athens, surely, for hundreds of guests pour into its confines to the discomfort of none, seemingly.

Athens hospitality and graciousness are certainly deservedly far-famed!

Atlanta always comes home singing the praises of her neighbor and friend Athens.

Our greatest chance of returning such courtesies comes during football season. Then we are constantly welcoming our friends from the University of Georgia, and Athens in general.

That pleasant inter-collegiate relations exist between the two big Georgia schools now is a matter of gratification to all Georgians.

The occasion of "little commencement" at Athens next week will be a very happy one in the lives of hundreds of our boys and girls.

Puppet Shows

At Agnes Scott.

The Lecture association of Agnes Scott college will present an unusual program on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 14 and 15, in the college auditorium in the appearance of Alfred and Dorothy Kreyenborg in the puppet plays of the Mushroom theater.

A puppet theater, designed by Hermann Rosse, the distinguished Dutch artist, and constructed by the Theodore Kahn Scenic studios, has just been completed for Alfred and Dorothy Kreyenborg.

The repertory of the Mushroom Players is entirely composed of the plays and pantomimes of Alfred Kreyenborg, with music of his own composition. (He will also chant his own poems to the accompaniment of the mandoline.)

Miss Campbell Given Beautiful Luncheon.

Mrs. Norwood Mitchell entertained Thursday at 1 o'clock at her home on Columbus avenue at a lovely luncheon in honor of Miss Virginia Campbell, a debutante of the winter.

Blue and yellow spring flowers in a silver basket graced the center of the handsomely appointed table.

Covers were laid for ten friends of the honoree.

Opera Recital At Druid Hills.

Invitations have been issued to the Music Study club, the Drama league, the Atlanta chapter of Martha Berry circle and other organizations which are interested to the luncheon and opera recital to be staged on Monday, April 12, at Druid Hills golf club.

In the morning the reading of "The Jewels of the Madonna" will be given after luncheon, which will be a delightful affair served at the clubhouse. The new opera, "Don Quixote," the splendid vehicle for the great Chaliapin's basso voice, will be the opera rendered.

Mrs. Earl Sherwood Jackson and Hugh Hodgson, pianist, are the artists selected for this occasion.

This spend-the-day opera reading is sponsored by a group of some of the most prominent women socially in Atlanta.

The proceeds from the operagoes will be given toward the fund that will build a mothers' building at Martha Berry school. This building to be a tribute of love to the mothers of yesterday and today.

The hostesses on this occasion will be Mrs. Charles Conklin, Mrs. Floyd McFar, Jr., Mrs. Ronald Ransom, Mrs. Howard Bucknell, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. Harry Atkinson, Mr. Frank Hawkins, Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., Mrs. William H. Kiser, Mrs. Henry Heinz, Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Mrs. J. Edgar Paulin, Mrs. Ben Phillips, Mrs. William P. Hill, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Frank Imman.

A limited number of persons have been selected to attend these readings. The price of this "spend-the-day" is $4, and must be subscribed to as a whole. The capacity of the hall room is limited, but there are still seats to be had, and can be secured by calling Mrs. Charles Conklin, 904 Peachtree street.

Mrs. Charles A. Conklin and Mrs. Frank M. Imman are co-chairmen on general arrangements, while Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Ronald Ransom and Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., compose the committee on publicity.

Luncheon Party At the Biltmore.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Jenkins, of New York, who are spending several days at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, entertained at luncheon Thursday in the main dining room of the hotel.

Fifth District P.T. A. Meeting Today of Interest

The meeting of the Fifth district council of Parent-Teacher associations to be held at John B. Gordon school today, will be one of the most interesting and most important sessions held in the district. Of particular interest to Parent-Teacher associations will be the address of Mrs. Winifred Hathaway, director for the American Society for the Prevention of Blindness. The care of the eyes is a very important phase of parent-teacher work, and investigation has shown that many children in classrooms are suffering from such serious eye defects that blindness may result unless the greatest protection is given to the eyes.

Another speaker of note will be Miss Ann Simpson. Miss Simpson's work with the schools and with Parent-Teacher associations has been of invaluable assistance.

Dr. Lewis Hoppe, fifth district chairman of child hygiene, will tell of the work done in the clinics. Pre-school age workers are especially urged to hear Dr. Hoppe. He is recognized as an outstanding child specialist in Atlanta. All state officers and state chairmen are invited. District chairmen are expected to be present and to make report of the work done during the year. Associations will be asked to give one-minute reports of work done. Mrs. George Bussey, fifth district program chairman, will announce the prize winners for best programs submitted.

The election of officers for a term of two years and the adoption of a constitution will be taken up at the business session.

Reservations must be made with Mrs. C. M. Stanton, 136 Jefferson Place, Decatur.

Miss Frances White Given Bridge-Luncheon.

A beautiful affair of Thursday was the bridge-luncheon at which Mrs. J. E. Spurlock and Mrs. J. J. Nesville were joint hostesses at the home of Mrs. Spurlock on Oakdale road, in Druid Hills, honoring Miss Frances White, whose marriage to Mr. William Jeter Weems will be an interesting social event of Saturday afternoon.

Invited to meet Miss White were Misses Virginia Brittain, Harriet Noyes, Miss McCarty, of Montgomery, Agnes Adams, Annie Chappelle, Margaret Rogers, Minnie Daniel, Miss Swan, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Felix Borzyński, Mrs. James Lowery, Sr., Mrs. James Lowery, Jr., Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Hoyt Sutton, Mrs. West, Mrs. Lucien York, Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. Harry Pool, Mrs. Ingram, Mrs. Ivan Sage, Mrs. Dobbins, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Bradfield, Mrs. McCutcheon, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. Morton Smith, Mrs. L. ESKIMOS DANCED AS PLANE ARRIVED

BY FREDERICK LEWIS EARP.

(Copyright, 1926, by the Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance.) Fairbanks, Alaska, April 8.—In wild terror at the approach of the roaring monoplane of Captain George H. Wilkins when he landed at Point Barrow last week, Eskimos started their devil-chasing dance to ward off the "Tingmezon Tonuk," or "Flying Devil" as they have styled the big Fokker monoplane.

The scene is described graphically by Earl F. Hammond, advance man of the Detroit Arctic Expedition, who arrived by sledge from Nome several weeks ago to prepare the landing field at Barrow. His account, brought by Captain Wilkins, who arrived here last night in "Tingmezon" follows: "Ever since March 15 when I arrived and told the Eskimos of Captain Wilkins' approaching visit, every igloo had its own sentinel posted, watching the southern sky for the coming of the "great purring bird." They worked daily preparing the landing field and their excitement pyramided each day as he did not come. "Finally, on March 21, just before 3 p. m. we all heard the distant thrumming of the motors and out of the blinding white of the sky the monoplane emerged. I can't say that you know what excitement is in the cities but it could be nothing compared to the thrill that passed through the igloo colony here. The confusion was indescribable. Some of the older Eskimos, although they had been told what to expect, shouted that Toney (the devil) was coming and started on their devil-chasing dance. "There were loud cries: 'The devil is trying to get indoors; and one old

Guards Deny Doomed Convict Right To Wear Wooden Leg

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.) Osaung, N. Y., April 8.—A wooden leg may seem harmless to some people but Sing Sing guards regard such things dubiously. Take the case of Michael Kosmoski for example. Michael is awaiting doom in the electric chair for the murder of a woman in Buffalo. "Please let me take my wooden leg to bed with me," he begged today. "No, Mike," his guards told him, "you might play some of your mischievous tricks. Suppose you got mad and tapped one of us boys over the head with it some night. Warden Levey wouldn't like that."

"I feel so naked and ashamed when I go to bed without my leg," he cried. "A wooden leg is a great comfort to a man in my position."

"That's the ju' what I'm afraid of," replied the warden, and remained obdurate.

Eskimo woman who had been Christianized by Archdeacon Steek, the famous missionary of the olden days, rushed into the government hospital, sank to her knees and started praying in Eskimo. The younger Eskimos, however, were mad with curiosity and stamped the local school teacher in a rush for the landing field. Wilkins and Elson were surrounded by the most excited bunch of kids. I would venture, in the world at that time."

Blanton Demands Guardian of War Veterans Resign

Washington, April 8.—(P)—Resignation or removal from office of Frederick A. Fenning, one of the District of Columbia commissioners, was demanded today in the house by Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas. He charged him with irregularities in serving as a guardian for approximately one hundred patients, a number of them world war veterans, at St. Elizabeth's hospital for the insane. The attack also embraced Fenning's duties as commissioner and referred to a recent shake-up in the Washington police force under Fenning, which Mr. Blanton said had failed to interfere with transportation of 10,000 cases of liquor by truck into the city last year.

Mr. Blanton said Lieutenant Francis D. Allen, of Chester, Pa., whom he described as "sane" was now confined in the hospital and denied permission to communicate with Representative Butler, member of the house from this district.

"Well, I'll communicate with him," interjected Mr. Butler.

Mr. Blanton in his address prepared for the Record said a naval officer had committed Allen to the institution because Allen had asked him to return a loan. "The Texas member said he was also putting into the Record an affidavit from Mrs. Eliza Lee, of Grundy, Va., which charged that although she was the legal guardian of her son confined at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Fenning had advised former Representative Slemm, of Virginia, that his estate could not be turned over to her unless her son was removed to Virginia, that he could keep Dr. White from letting him be removed from the hospital and that "between the two they have kept my son and his estate away from me."

FARM BODY FAVORS MEASURE BY CRISP

Washington, April 8.—The house agriculture committee today approved a bill by Representative Crisp, democrat, Georgia, to prohibit shipment through interstate commerce of cattle infected with the splenic or Texas fever.

SEATING OF STECK URGED BY GEORGE

Washington, April 8.—(Special).—In a clear, forceful and straight-forward address, Senator George, of Georgia, urged the senate Thursday to accept the majority report of the privileges and elections committee recommending the seating of Daniel F. Steck, Iowa, democrat, in the place now held by Senator Brookhart, Iowa, republican.

Senator George was a member of the special subcommittee which investigated the election contest brought by Steck and supervised a recount of the ballots and he explained in detail to the senate just how the subcommittee had done its work and why it had come to the conclusion that Steck was elected and not Brookhart.

The Georgia senator's speech, which rose at times to eloquent periods, was attentively heard by a large attendance of senators and a full gallery. Afterward he was complimented for his presentation of the case.

"A great deal is being said about the voter being the real party at interest," George said.

"It is true also that the candidate is a party at interest."

The Georgia senator said "when you speak of the people of Iowa being represented" that it must be remembered that Steck received the most votes, according to the recount the subcommittee had made.

"It is quite as immoral to steal the election from one man as from another man," he declared.

"It would be just as wrong and immoral for me to deny a seat to Steck if he were elected by one vote and only one vote."

The senate, George said, had appointed the officials who had supervised the tabulation, which required weeks. The subcommittee had complied with agreements made by Brookhart's attorneys and those representing Steck.

George said that the sealing wax on one of the mail sacks in which the ballots were sent here was broken, apparently from the wear during the trip, but that Brookhart had not questioned that at first, but had waived his right to challenge on this point, as he had waived his right to bring witnesses here from Iowa to testify regarding the way the ballots were taken.

Brookhart and his advocates now do not want to be bound by conditions they themselves fixed, George said.

Speaking of the motion of Senator Bingham, Connecticut, republican, to refer the case back to committee, George said that this was not "humanly possible" because the evidence is "virtually destroyed."

REMUS ORDERED TO SERVE TERM

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 8.—(P)—George E. Remus, former Cincinnati "bootleg king," was ordered to serve one year in the Dayton prison (Ohio) jail under a ruling of the United States circuit court of appeals here today.

In an opinion handed down by the appellate court it was held that sentence of two years imposed on Remus for conspiring to violate the national prohibition law and of one year for maintaining a nuisance during his illegal operations did not run concurrently.

Lower Court Reversed.

The opinion reversed a decision of Federal Judge Smith Hickenlooper, who granted Remus a writ of habeas corpus and discharged him from custody.

Remus can appeal to the United States supreme court for a reversal of the appeals court, but whether he will do so his attorneys would not say, pending a conference with him.

Today's opinion did not affect the liberty of Remus' five associates who were sentenced with him and who also were discharged by Judge Hickenlooper. No appeal was taken in their cases, the government contending it self with endeavoring to obtain a reversal in that of Remus.

Remus served a sentence of two years in the Atlanta penitentiary and paid a fine of $10,000 for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act. He was sentenced on this charge May 18, 1922. Eight days later after another trial on a charge of violating the section of the prohibition law against maintaining a nuisance, he was convicted and sentenced to the Dayton jail for one year and fined $1,000. He paid the $1,000 fine. Both sentences were imposed by former Judge J. W. Peck.

Upon his release from the Atlanta prison, Remus was rearrested and placed in the Dayton jail to serve the one-year term. He was released on his application for a writ of habeas corpus, in which he contended that in serving the longer sentence he had served concurrently the shorter sentence.

PASTOR BELIEVED SLAYER OF WIFE, SON AND HIMSELF

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 8.—(P)—Worry following upon a general breakdown is believed to have caused the Rev. H. H. Nikolin, rector of St. Nicholas Greek Catholic Orthodox church of this city, to slay his wife and son and commit suicide today.

The tragedy was revealed when firemen, responding to an alarm, found the parish rectory in flames. The bodies of Mrs. Nikolin, 35, and her son, Alexander, 14, were found on their beds with bullet wounds in their heads. The body of the rector was found lying by the boy's bed with a bullet wound in the temple. On the floor was a revolver with all the cartridges discharged.

ATLANTA LAWYER DENOUNCES LOAN SHARKS IN SPEECH

New York, April 8.—(P)—Loan sharks who "blackmail a man on his job by threats of causing his discharge unless he reviews his contract each pay day" were scathingly arraigned today by J. L. R. Boyd, of Atlanta, Ga., in an address before the National Legal Aid association convention.

"The wage and salary buyers try to justify usurious rates of 20 per cent a month, or 240 per cent a year by saying they have poor security for the money they advance on salary contracts or assignments," Boyd pointed out.

Odd Fellows Elect.

Fitzgerald, Ga., April 8.—(Special).—G. C. Petty and George C. Crawford were elected representatives to the Grand lodge I. O. O. F. from Fitzgerald lodge number 35. The Grand lodge meets in Columbus in May.

Church Clears Mortgage.

Digging deep into their pockets in an effort to clear their church of debt, members of the Laster's Methodist Episcopal colored church, College Park, Sunday night laid $1,018.45 on the table and Tuesday night the mortgage against the church was turned back to officials of the church to be destroyed. It was paid in full by this and dimes.

INSTALLMENT XLII.
A DISCUSSION OF LOVE.

Donovan busied herself combing out Celia's hair from the brush and winding them into a neat wreath round her finger.

"No, Miss, since you ask me, I'm glad to say I never was in love."

She began to brush again, rather harder than before, but Celia ked it.

"Why are you glad? Don't you believe in love?"

"Love of my neighbor, p'haps. In love, no!" The brush went still eeper.

"But why not?" persisted Celia.

"Because, why, it's just a question of the sixes—the sixes and evens I call it. Just a question of the sixes, pure and simple, that is,

"you'll excuse me, Miss—of the sixes impure and mixed up."

Celia glanced at her in the mirror to see if she were smiling, as he was used to do, at her own wit, but Donovan's mouth was as hard nd as firmly clasped as the mouth of a leather traveling bag. Her thoughts were anything but mirthful.

"If," she was saying to herself, "if you are thinking of that O'Shea nd looking to get any nourishment for your delusions from me, ou're sure mistaken, Missy!"

For she was even more dissatisfied with Padraic's constant presence in the house than Jenkins, being fond of Celia in her gritty way.

Celia considered a moment, then replied:

"But, Nurse, if no men and women got 'in love' with one another he world would stop."

"And a good thing, too, in my opinion," retorted Donovan, showing herself by this remark to be an unconscious Tolstolian. "I ain't ever ing anything so mighty worth while in the 'gift of life,' as it's called in ooks, and any fool can see what ain't worth while in it. Bad health nd bad people every which ways you look. Bad luck, bad faith, bad eth, bad ears. Look at me, just turned fifty-one, and my ears gone ack on me a-ready."

Donovan got going so seldom that when she did get going she was ke a runaway engine on a down grade, but today Celia was glad that he had started and hoped that she would keep on. Donovan as a philosopher always amused her, and as long as she kept on brushing she oped that she would keep on talking. She couldn't think her own reary thoughts while Donovan was disclosing even drearier ones.

"I thought your ears were better!" she murmured now, while the ther paused for breath.

"No worse is better when you deal with doctors, I s'pose," granted Donovan. "But saying they are better, there's my teeth. I've got more old in my mouth this minute than most folks put in the poor box in a fetime. And for what? The roots go on decaying under the gold just he same."

"I'm afraid you haven't a good dentist," ventured Celia.

"I don't believe there's no good dentist," said Donovan. "Some urts you less'n others, that's all. Sometimes when I think of it it does em to me that the Power as made us is plumb spiteful. There ain't o part nor parcel of us as isn't fixed so as to give more pain than leasure, and to give it sooner than later. Real shoddy made we are, oor humans! Talking of teeth. Why couldn't teeth have been made ke rocks? Even nails? You can cut 'em without hurting, it's true, ut look at a hang nail—it hurts near as bad as a toothache—and hair,

o."

She held up a yard of the silken strands she was brushing and sur-eyed it gloomily.

"Hair falls out and turns gray, and there's a disease of it, I've heard ll, called 'Polish evil,' which swells it up like snakes."

"O, Nurse!" protested Celia.

"No, I don't hold with this 'in love' business," pursued Donovan, turning with a shake of her head to her steady brushing. "If you re tolerably fond of a person and comfortable, stick to that person and hat comfort, I say. Betterment is worsement more'n half the time, and f all bad things in a bad world the worst is a bad mistake."

"I suppose it is," sighed Celia.

"I know it is," said Donovan.

"Tolerable fondness" and "comfort." After all, her nurse's creed as the creed of her own world. She herself had been content with it nce. But then no one had loved her. She thought of Padraic's eyes nd the blue flame in them, and of his warm, ardent saying, "O, you lorable infant!" How different it was to be called an "adorable infant" rom being told that you were not a baby, though you persisted in acting ke one. All the difference between "tolerable fondness" and "in love, ve."

She was pretty sure to make a mistake either way. Would the mis-ake be worse if she remained with "tolerable fondness" and "comfort" nd gave up love, or if she lost them in venturing all for love, and love iled her?"

A knock came at the door and Donovan went to answer it, returning with a stony countenance and Padraic's basket of orchids. She knew ell from whom they came.

"O, how beautiful! How simply exquisite!" breathed Celia. "Did ou ever see anything so lovely, Nurse?"

Donovan had set the basket on a small table and backed away from as though it held contagion.

"I don't hold with them artificial flowers," said she curtly.

"But they're not artificial! They are orchids—air plants, fairy flow-rs. They don't grow out of the dark earth, but from the blue air."

"Unnatural then," said Donovan. "It ain't natural for flowers not o have no roots. Some folks are like that. I don't like rootless people either."

Celia had got up from the dressing table and was kneeling on a ool by the orchids as if adoring them.

She knew who had sent them, too, without opening the little white velope tied among the ferns that framed them.

"You'd better let me put you to bed and then in the bathroom," aid Donovan. "It ain't going to do you no good breathing all that rong scent."

"But it's delicious! It couldn't possibly hurt me!"

"Tastes sure differ," said her nurse dryly. "Now to me they smell ust like overscented humans—those women that set next you sometimes the movies. Fair turn my stomach, they do, same as these."

Celia, who craved to be alone with her orchids and her thoughts of adraic, became suddenly meek.

"I'll go to bed now if you think it best," she said.

"I've thought it best for the last hour and a half," said Donovan.

"You look like a corpse alongside them purple things."

"O, Nurse!" protested Celia again, but inclined now to laugh. She didn't dare to, though, for Donovan wore her grimmest look, to offend er meant discomfort in every important trifle for days after.

"Now I come to think of it, that personage was pursuing—that's hat they remind me of—corpses. They'd look fine at a wake."

Celia didn't protest this time. She waited till Donovan had put her o bed, plumping and smoothing her pillows and tucking her in exactly s when she had been a child. Then, overcome by a new and hungry onging for some sign of tenderness from her old nurse, she caught the otty hand as it passed over her pillow and held it against her cheek.

"Nurse, you are a little fond of me, aren't you?"

Loew's Grand.

"Fifty Miles From Broadway," a miniature musical comedy produced on an elaborate scale with eleven people in the cast, is the headline attraction on the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand this week. This is a fast-stepping musical show with clever fun and with a pretty musical score. There are several other exceptionally good acts on the bill this week, among them being Carson and Willard, comedians, in "Meet the Doctor," the Ja De Trio, "Three Sailors and a Piano," Beeman and Grace, musicians and roller skaters, and Francis and Wilson, acrobats. Sally O'Neill, the star in "Don't," the Loew feature picture offering for the week.

Rialto Theater.

A picture with thrills and laughs is "Steel Preferred," which is on view at the Rialto theater this week. York Reynolds, William Boyd, Hobart Bosworth and Charlie Murray are seen in the featured roles. The story is a dramatic novel of the lives of steel workers. In the supporting cast are Ben Turpin, one of the most famous screen comedians in the world. This is a production none should miss.

An Eastern prologue staged under the direction of Miss Nellie Sullivan, Atlanta's famous dancer and dancing instructor, features several of her pupils in a series of singing, dancing and pantomime acts. "High on the Handstand" is the title of the current installment of the series. "The Adventures of Mazie."

"Moby Dick," the name of a white whale of demonic power, has, as a novel, been accepted as the most authentic and stirring of all American stories of sea adventure. As a screen play, "The Sea Beast," playing at the Metropolitan theater this week, has been accepted as the mightiest of all, in a season of remarkable pictures. It is a story of the whaling days of 1840 with a scene that shifts from New England across the sea to Java.
